

BANCO CENTRAL DE RESERVA DEL PERÚ

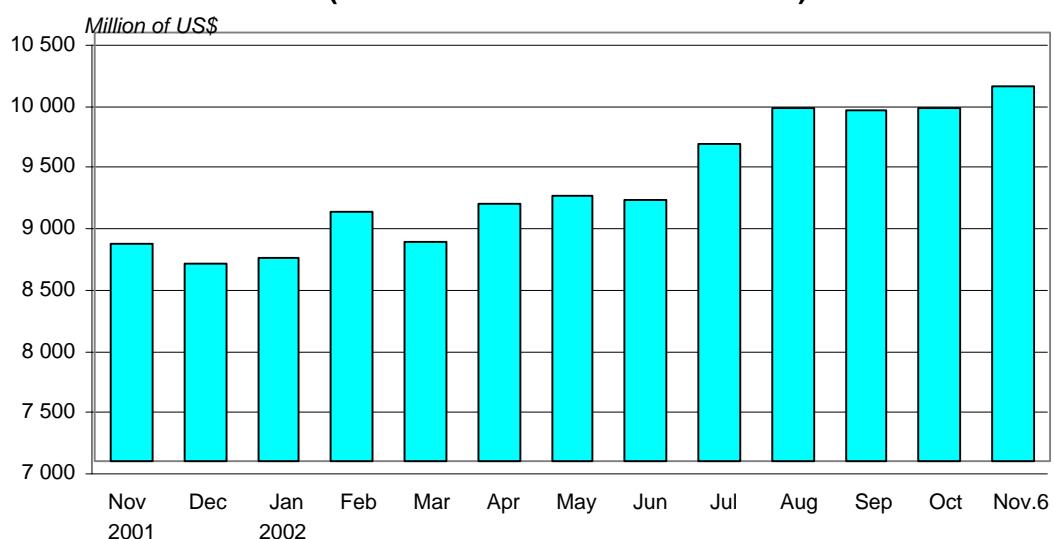

WEEKLY REPORT N° 45 – November 8, 2002

Net International Reserves: US$ 10 053 million

On November 6, the net international reserves (NIR) of the Central Reserve Bank of Peru amounted to US$ 10 053 million, up US$ 172 million from end-October, due to the increase in financial system deposits (US$ 196 million) and investment yields (US$ 3 million), which was partially offset by the withdrawal of public sector deposits (US$ 26 million) and other operations (US$ 1 million).

In October, NIR increased US$ 24 million to US$ 9 881 million, up US$ 1 267 million from end-December. The monthly increase obeys to higher public sector deposits (US$ 42 million) and FLAR's profit capitalization (US$ 15 million), which were partially offset by lower financial system deposits (US$ 30 million), the decrease of Insurance Deposit Fund deposits (US$ 2 million) and investment yields and other operation (US$ 1 million);

Exchange rate: S/. 3,616

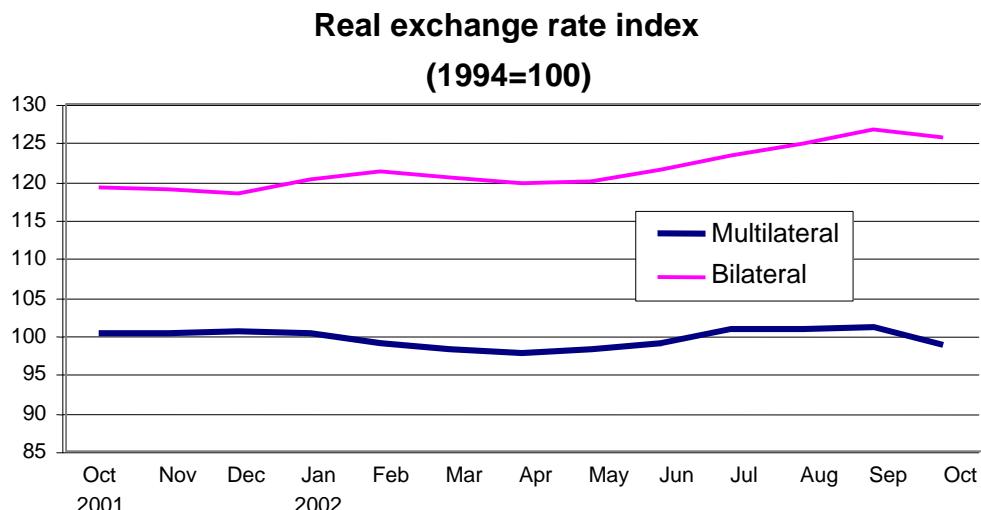

In October, the ask exchange rate average S/. 3,616, down 0,1 percent from September, but up 5,2 percent from December. In the first half of October, the exchange rate was affected by the presidential polls. However, this effect was reverted in the second half. In real terms, the exchange rate decreased 2 percent, reflecting the nominal appreciation as well as the difference between external inflation

(-1,2 percent) and domestic inflation (0,7 percent). External inflation was mainly a consequence of our main trade partners' currencies depreciation against the US dollar (1,6 percent).

In October, the balance of net forward sale operations of banking enterprises decreased US$ 44 million, whereas the covered exchange position dropped US$ 73 million.

Press release

MONETARY PROGRAM APPROVED BY THE BOARD OF THE BANK FOR NOVEMBER 2002

1. In October, the daily average balance of the banks' current account was S/. 188 million, within the range announced for that month (S/. 180 million to S/. 200 million). The interbank interest rate in domestic currency diminished from 5,6 percent in September to 4,6 percent in October, into a context of decreasing regional financial uncertainty.
2. The Board of the Bank assessed the monetary policy stance for November and established the following:
 - a. The targeted range for the banks' current account balance held at the Central Bank will be S/. 170 million to S/. 190 million on a daily average basis, considering the greater funds in vault of the previous month.
 - b. For monetary regulation credits and temporary purchase of CDCCRP and Treasury bonds out of auction, the effective interest rate remains as the weighted average of the interbank interest rates, or 4,75 percent, whichever is highest.
 - c. For overnight deposits in domestic currency held by banks at the Central Bank, the effective interest rate remains at 3,0 percent.
 - d. For foreign exchange temporary purchase operations (swap operations), the commission is kept to an implicit effective annual cost of 4,75 percent.
3. The following interest rates will be used in foreign-currency operations:
 - a. The effective annual rate for monetary regulation credits will be the 1-month LIBOR plus one percentage point.
 - b. For overnight deposits held by banks at the Central Bank, the rate is equivalent to the average obtained by the Central Bank for similar deposits abroad.
5. The previous framework is consistent with the current annual inflation forecast (2,5 percent with a ±1 percentage point).
6. If justified by financial conditions, the values mentioned above could be modified in order to ensure the attainment of the objective to preserve monetary stability, which mean avoiding inflationary or deflationary pressures.
