Fiscal primary surplus in November: S/. 359 million

In November, central government operations recorded a primary surplus of S/. 359 million, against a S/. 84 million deficit in November 2002. Interests amounted to S/. 237 million (down S/. 9 million from the year ago). As a result, the overall balance passed from a S/. 330 million deficit in November 2002 to a surplus of S/. 122 million this month. The latter was explained by the growth in current revenues (18 percent) as well as a lower non-financial expenditure (1 percent), in particular the outlay regarding capital goods (19 percent).

In the period January-November, central government operations recorded a primary surplus of S/. 1 316 million, compared to the S/. 169 million deficit in the same period of 2002, thanks to the increase in current revenues (11 percent or S/. 2 889 million) that exceeded the growth in non-financial expenditure (6 percent or S/. 1 445 million).

November external financing was positive in US$ 2 183 million (disbursements amounted to US$ 680 million and amortization to US$ 52 million). Domestic financing was negative in S/. 2 347 million due to the placement of sovereign bonds (S/. 146 million) and Public Treasury IOUs (S/. 230 million), whereas S/. 365 million in IOUs were redeemed.

Current revenues (S/. 2 819 million) grew 18 percent against November 2002, reflecting the improvement in tax collection (16 percent) explained in turn to the increase in income tax (29 percent), IGV (13 percent), others (8 percent) as well as excise tax (3 percent) and tax refund (11 percent). Non-tax revenues increased 35 percent, due to the US$ 21 million revenues reported by anti corruption fund FADADOI, that were nil in November 2002. Compared to the previous month, current revenues increased S/. 306 million, thanks to the increase in non-tax revenues (S/. 113 million), excise tax (S/. 108 million), lower tax refund (S/. 58 million) and others (S/. 34 million).

Non-financial expenditure in November 2003 (S/. 2 463 million) were S/. 20 million lower than a year ago, due to lower outlays oriented to investment projects (S/. 67 million or 18 percent), that was partially offset by the increase in wages and salaries (S/. 28 million) and transfers (S/. 29 million). Against the previous month, non-financial expenditure decreased S/. 411 million, due to the contraction in current (S/. 232 million) and capital expenditure (S/. 179 million).
