

CENTRAL RESERVE BANK OF PERU

WEEKLY REPORT

Nº 18 – April 30, 2004

Net international reserves at US$ 10 505 million

On April 27, net international reserves (NIR) of the Central Reserve Bank amounted to US$ 10 505 million, up US$ 94 million from end-March. The operations that made possible this increase were net purchases of foreign currency (US$ 151 million), higher deposits of the financial system and the Insurance Deposit Fund (US$ 78 and 2 million, respectively) and interest earnings (US$ 11 million). However, these operations were partially offset by foreign currency sales oriented to public debt service payments (US$ 105 million), lower public sector deposits (US$ 2 million) and the valuation effect (US$ 42 million) as a result of a lower gold quotation.

In the year, NIR have increased US$ 310 million. On the other hand, Central Bank international position amounted to US$ 5 241 million, up US$ 658 million from end-2003.

Interbank interest rate at 2,49%

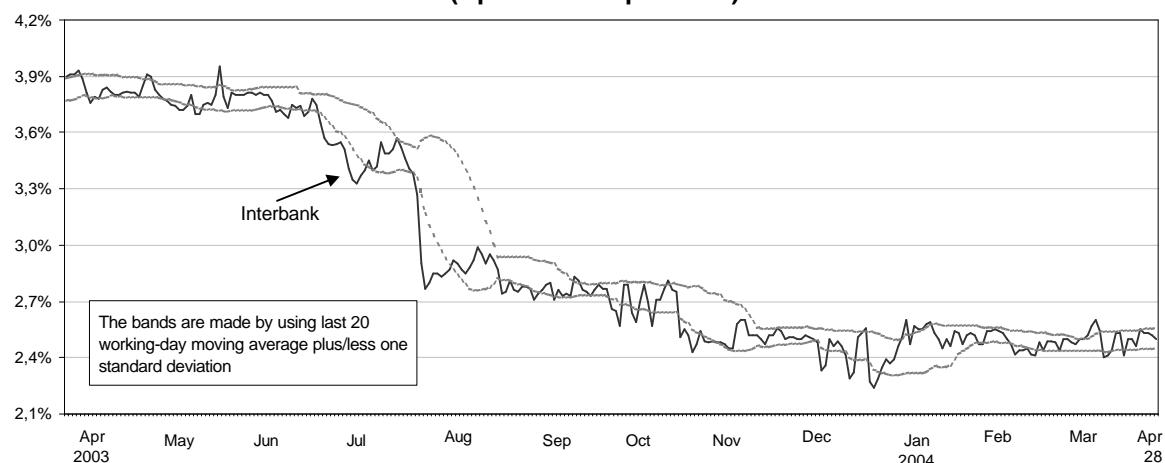

Between April 1 and 28, the average interbank interest rate in domestic currency was 2,49%, slightly higher than in March (2,48%). It should be noted that this rate is within the corridor set by BCR operations' interest rates: 3,25% for monetary regulation credits and 1,75% for overnight deposits.

Spread of Global bond 2012 at 3,53%

As of April 28, the spread of the Peruvian Global bond 2012 was 3,53%, higher than end-March (3,0%), whereas the spread of the sovereign bonds rose from 3,43% to 3,75% over the same period. The emerging spreads has been aided by the possibility that the Fed raises interest rates and thus capital flows to the emerging economies reduce. On April 26, the government issued a US$ 500 million worth global bond with a 12-year maturity and a 8,4% yield (an spread of 395 bps over the US Treasury bond due in 2014). This is the fifth issuance made by the Peruvian government since February 2002.

International markets

Between April 21 and 28, the gold quotation decreased 1,6% to US$ 387 per Troy ounce due to the strengthening of the US dollar, which provoked a lower demand of European and Asian (mainly Chinese) investors in the gold market.

The copper quotation dropped 6,1% to US$ 1,25 per pound due to policies adopted in China oriented to slowdown the economy and avoid inflationary risks However, LME inventories declined once more from 160 to 153 thousand MT.

In the week under analysis, the zinc quotation increased 1,1 % to US$ 0,46 per pound due to the expected deficit in the western world for 2004 in 70 thousand M.T: after the 118 thousand M.T surplus of 2003.

LME inventories decreased from 780 to 765 thousand MT, after the recovery of 100 thousand MT recorded between March 24 and April 13.

The WTI oil price increased 3,4% to US$ 37,8 per barrel, due to a likely increase in OPEC's official oil price limits.

The US dollar appreciated 0,7% against the yen and remained steady against the euro.
The European currency was favored by the Statement of the ECB president who praised the regional economy recovery.

Between April 21 and 28, the 3-month Libor remained at 1,17%, whereas the yield of US Treasury bonds with a 10 year maturity soared from 4,43 to 4,50%. The demand for US Treasuries fell after the increase in durable good orders and the rise in the consumer confidence index.

Lima Stock Exchange (LSE)

As of April 28, the LSE recorded a 2,8% setback in the General Index and a 7,7% one in the Blue Chip Index, mainly reflecting lower mineral quotations.

However, cumulative increase in the year is 17,5% for the General Index and 20,4% for the Blue Chip.
