Mining and oil related projects and construction have been determinant in private investment expansion. For instance, sales of cement increased 8,3%, whereas imports of capital goods excluding construction inputs, grew by 11,5%.

The 3,1% private consumption growth was reflected in indicators such as the 22% expansion of consumer credits, the 10% increase in car leasing and the growth of sales in malls and supermarkets (28,7 and 12,8%, respectively), coupled with the increase in urban employment in enterprises with 10 or more workers (1,9%).

Public consumption was slightly higher than a year ago (0,3%), whereas the 12,9% drop in public investment is purely due to the delay in transfers from the central government to local instances.

The 11,9% expansion of exports was based in higher export volume of mining products such as copper (13,9%), gold (16%), lead (33,5%) and silver (2,4%). On the other hand, non-traditional export also recorded a positive record with an overall increase of 30,8%; and 31,3% for garments, 31,6% for agriculture products and 56,1% for metal-based and jewelry. On the other hand, imports grew by 1,9%. Acquisitions of intermediate goods for industry were the most remarkable (10,7%).

Economic sectors

In the first quarter of 2004, the primary sectors grew 5,5 percent whereas the non-primary sector increased 4,6 percent. In this period there was a growth in all the sectors, situation that was not observed from the fourth quarter of 2002.

The primary sector was impelled by the growth of the metallic mining (14 percent) due to the higher production of gold, copper and iron; and of the fishing (6,5 percent) by the greater disembarkations of anchoveta. Within the non-primary activities they emphasized the construction sector (7,1 percent) associated to the impulse of the housing programs promoted by the State and the non-primary manufacture (6 percent) that reflects the increase of non-traditional exports, the development of mining projects and the higher production of consumer goods.

Current account deficit equivalent to 0,4% of GDP

Over the first quarter of 2004, the current account deficit amounted to US$ 68 million, down US$ 446 million from a year ago, thanks to the improvement in the trade balance (in US$ 577 million) which in turn reflected the momentum in terms of trade (a 14,7% increase in annual terms). On the other hand, the income a service deficits were higher than a year ago in US$ 180 and 12 million, respectively. However, current transfers increased by US$ 60 million. Compared with the previous quarter, the current deficit was US$ 60 million lower.

In this quarter, the financial account was positive in US$ 271 million, mainly due to higher private capitals (US$ 217 million). The latter in turn reflects entries from direct private investment and net long term loans (US$ 252 million), partially offset by financial system investment abroad. The public sector financial account was negative in US$ 34 million, whereas short term flows positive in US$ 88 million.

As a result, net international reserves of the Central Bank increased US$ 216 million over this quarter.

Fiscal surplus of 0,7% of GDP over the first quarter

Over the first quarter, the non-financial overall balance was positive in 0,7 % of GDP, compared with an equivalent deficit a year ago, mainly due to the improvement in the NFPS primary balance in 1,6% of GDP, reflecting higher tax revenues, lower central government non-financial expenses and a state-owned enterprises' surpluses. NFPS's interests amounted to 2,6% of GDP, up 0,2 percentage points from a year ago.

Over this period, current revenue totaled 14,8% of GDP, down 0,2 ppt from a year ago. However, in real terms revenue increased by 6%, reflecting the growth in tax collection (9%), that offset lower non-tax resources such as oil royalties and transfers among others.

Central government non-financial expenditure totaled 12,5% of GDP, down 1,1% from a year ago and 2,8% in real terms, due to lower transfers and investment outlays. However, the latter is due to the delay in transfers from the central government to local instances.

Payment of interest amounted to 2,2% of GDP, up 14,8% in real terms, mainly due to higher external debt service (from US$ 252 million in IQ03 to US$ 310 million this period).

In the first quarter, net external financing was negative in US$ 37 million. Disbursements amounted to US$ 259 million, including US$ 51 million oriented to general government investment projects, as well as US$ 200 million from the Inter American Development Bank of free availability resources. Domestic financing was also negative in S/. 428 million, due to higher state-owned enterprises' deposits. It should be noted that in the first quarter of the year, the government placed bonds worth S/. 584 million, whereas amortization was S/. 210 million for bonds and S/. 200 million for Treasury bills.

Privatization receipts reached US$ 71 million, US$ 68 million from the sale of RELAPASA share and US$ 2 million from former operation payments. In the first quarter of the year, privatization and concession records amounted to US$ 276 million, including the leasing of Yuncan hydroelectric plant by US$ 205 million.

Net international reserves at US$ 10 886 million

As of May 18, net international reserves (NIR) reached US$ 10 886 million, up US$ 415 million from end-April. This increase mainly comes from higher public sector deposits (US$ 425 million), the capitalization of FLAR quota (US$ 7 million) and interest earned (US$ 6 million), which were partially offset by a negative valuation effect (US$ 14 million) and lower financial system deposits (US$ 8 million).

In the year, NIR have increased US$ 691 million. On the other hand, Central Bank international position amounted to US$ 5 194 million, up US$ 611 million from end-2003.

The operations that expanded the monetary base were the withdrawal of public sector deposits (S/. 335 million) and the redemption of CDBCRP (S/. 230 million). These operations were partially offset by the redemption of temporary purchases of securities (S/. 410 million).

Gross domestic product grew by 5,5% in March

In March 2004, the GDP grew by 5,5% for 33 consecutive months. Growth was generalized in all sectors but agriculture. The expansion in primary sectors was 3,2%, lead by fishing and mining, whereas non-primary sectors grew by 6,9% due to the dynamism of non-primary industry and construction.

Over the period April 2003 – March 2004, GDP grew by 3,7 % against the period April 2002 – March 2003. Metallic mining and construction stood out.

The agriculture & livestock sector decline 0,1% in March due to the drop in agriculture output, partially offset by the increase in livestock, mainly of poultry. The former reflected the contraction in sugarcane, hard yellow corn and potato, due to droughts in the highlands.

Fishing expanded 14%, due to the growth of industrial fishing in the Southern coastal area. However, fishing for human consumption fell for a third consecutive month.

The 8,6% expansion in mining and oil was based in the higher production of copper and gold. The former due to the resume of BHP Billinton Tintaya operations and the latter for the contribution of medium and small mining. On the other hand, oil output declined.

Manufacturing output grew by 2,8% thanks to the remarkable growth of non-primary industry (9,6%), whereas based on raw material activities remained steady, since the higher output of fish meal and fish oil was offset by a lower production of canned and frozen fish and processing of sugar and oil. The expansion of non-primary industries was mainly recorded in electric machinery, furniture and wood, printing, construction materials and chemical and natural essences.

Spread of Global bond 2012 at 4,67%

As of May 19, the spread of the Peruvian Global bond 2012 was 4,67%, higher than in April (3,74%), whereas the spread of the Peruvian sovereign bond increased from 3,93% to 4,58%.

International markets

Between May 12 and 19, the gold quotation increased 0,8% to US$ 383 per Troy ounce due to the weakening of the US dollar and the higher demand after the terrorist attacks in the Middle East.

The copper quotation dropped 3,3% to US$ 1,20 per pound. Last week, the Bank of China reported that inflation peaked 3,8%, the highest in 7 years, and therefore decided to restrict credits to sectors such as printing and garments. However, LME inventories declined once more, though a lower pace, from 147 to 144 thousand MT.

In the week under analysis, the zinc quotation increased 0,7% to US$ 0,46 per pound, following the higher demand of institutional investors. LME inventories decreased from 751 to 739 thousand MT.

The WTI oil price soared 1,8% to a peak of US$ 41,6 per barrel, due to the lower US fuel inventories.

The US dollar depreciated 0,9% against the euro and appreciated 0,1% against the yen. The former due to the dynamism of Eurozone economy in the first quarter (a GDP growth of 1,3%, the highest in 3 years). On the other hand, the US dollar appreciated against the yen despite the 5,6% economic growth of Japanese economy, above market previsions.

The 3-month Libor passed from 1,24% to 1,27%, whereas the yield of US Treasury bonds with a 10 year maturity soared from 4,81 to 4,77%. The increase of US treasury values is a consequence of a lower than expected inflation, the fall of stock markets and a higher demand after the terrorist attacks in Iraq and Turkey.

Lima Stock Exchange (LSE)

As of May 19, the LSE recorded a drop of 1,6% for the General Index and 3,0% for the Blue Chip Index, in line with other regional stocks due to the expected rise in Fed's interest rates and lower mineral quotations. However, in the year these indices record cumulative increases of 14,3% and 15,1%.
