

CENTRAL RESERVE BANK OF PERU

WEEKLY REPORT

Nº 23 – June 4, 2004

Net international reserves at US$ 10 824 million

In May, net international reserves (NIR) increased US$ 353 million to a US$ 10 824 million balance. This increment is mainly due to higher public sector deposits (US$ 424 million), investment yield (US$ 10 million) and the capitalization of FLAR quota (US$ 7 million), partially offset by sales of foreign currency to the payment of the external debt (US$ 60 million) as well as lower financial system deposits (US$ 27 million).

In the year, NIR have increased US$ 630 million, whereas the Central Bank's international position grew by US$ 586 million amounting to US$ 5 169 million.

Interbank interest rate at 2,59%

The May average interbank interest rate in domestic currency was 2,48%, slightly lower than in April (2,49%). However, as of June 2, this rate rose to 2,59%.

Interbank interest rate in domestic currency (June 2003 - June 2004)

Monetary operations

In May, the daily average balance of banks' liquidity at the Central Bank was S/. 169 million. Between May 27 and June 2, the Central Bank made the following operations:

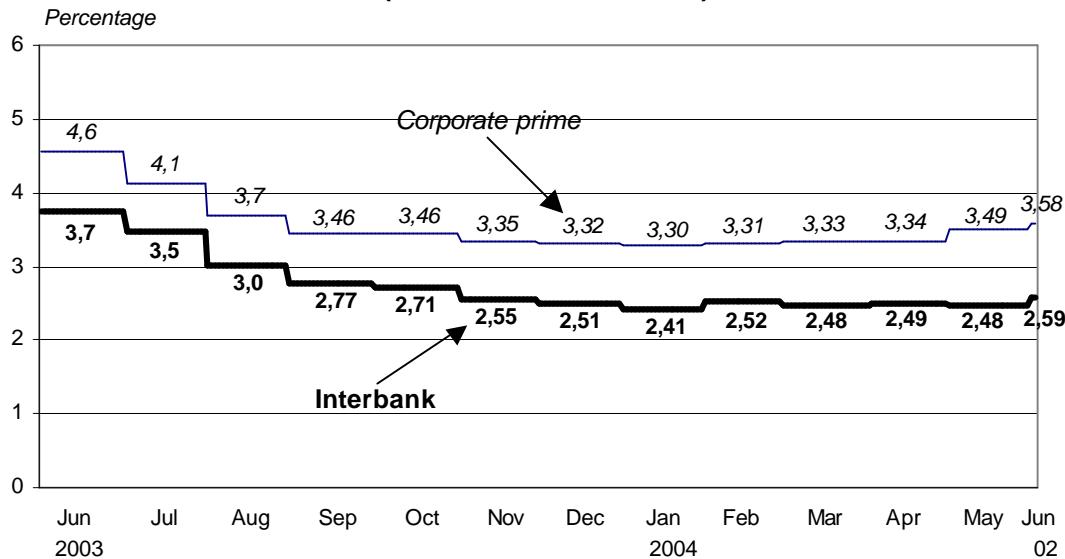

- Auctions of temporary purchase of CDBC RP and BTP: i) with a 1-day maturity by S/. 80, 110, 235, 70 and 400 million at average interest rates of 2,53; 2,49; 2,60; 2,60 and 2,54%, respectively and; ii) with a 3-day maturity by S/. 60 million and a rate of 2,53% on average.
- Overnight deposits on May 27 and 28 by S/. 1 and 32 million, respectively.

Corporate prime interest rate at 3,58%

In May, the 90-day average corporate prime interest rate in domestic currency rose to 3,49% from 3,34 in April. Over the same period, the rate in dollars also increased, from 1,83 to 1,92%. As of June 2, these rates were 3,58% and 1,95%, respectively.

Monthly average interest rates in foreign currency (June 2003 - June 2004)

Exchange rate: S/. 3,488

As of June 2, the exchange rate was S/. 3,488. In May, the nominal depreciation was 0,5%; the same figure over the period January-May and 0,2% through last 12 month.

In real terms, the exchange rate recorded a monthly appreciation of 1,2%, resulting from the difference between external inflation (-1,4%) and domestic inflation (0,4%), that offset the nominal exchange rate increase (0,5%).

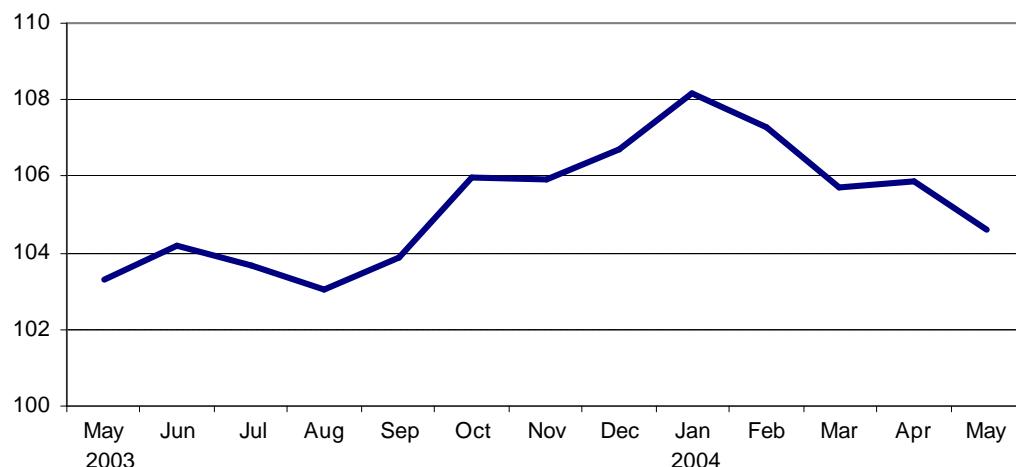

It should be noted that the external inflation for a fourth month in a row obeyed to the US dollar appreciation against the yen (4,2%), Canadian dollar (2,7%), Sterling pound (1,0%) and most Asian and Latin American currencies.

The Central Bank made no intervention in the interbank exchange market in May. However, it sold US$ 60 million to the Banco de la Nación on May 26, 27 and 28, which in turn sold US$ 41 million in net terms to banking enterprises.

In May, the balance of net forward sales dropped US$ 17 million (from US$ 553 million to US$ 536 million) due to higher net sale redemptions (US$ 128 million) against committed new operations (US$ 111 million). On the other hand, the bank's exchange position passed from US$ 448 to 598 million.

Monetary base: May 2004

The monetary base balance as of May 31 was S/. 7 422 million, up 0,7% (S/. 53 million) from end-April. In average terms, the year on year growth of the monetary base was 18,8% compared with 17,5 % in April, due to higher public's cash demand.

The operations that expanded the monetary base were the net redemption of CDBCRP (S/. 395 million) and the withdrawal of public sector deposits (S/. 135 million). These operations were partially offset by the redemption of temporary purchases of securities (S/. 280 million) and higher sales of foreign currency to the public sector (S/. 209 million or US$ 60 million).

Banking system monetary accounts: May 7, 2004

Last 4 week liquidity in domestic currency dropped 0,1% (S/. 31 million) to a balance of S/. 20 784 million. Credit to the private sector in the same currency decreased 0,7% (S/. 77 million) to S/. 10 467 million. However, in annual terms these aggregates grew by 14,5 and 2,7%, respectively.

On the other hand, foreign currency liquidity increased 0,4% (US$ 35 million) to US$ 9 236 million, down 4,3% from a year ago. Credit in the same currency (US$ 9 706 million) increased US$ 77 million (0,8%). In annual terms, this aggregate fell 3,4%.

May inflation: 0,35%

In May, the rate of inflation was 0,35% whereas last 12 month inflation reached 3,18%. Four agriculture products explained 0,28 percent points of May figure: eggs (0,16 points), fish (0,05 points), grapes (0,04 points) and zapallo (0,03 points), whereas oil added 0,05 additional points. Core inflation was 0,20% (2,53% over last 12 month), whereas the non-core component was 0,68% (4,53% over last 12 months). Excluding all kind of food and beverage core inflation would have been 0,12% in May and 1,06% through last 12 month.

The foreign component of inflation was 0,54% (8,51% through last 12 month). It should be noted that this is the component of the CPI directly or indirectly affected by changes in international prices or the exchange rate.

April trade surplus: US$ 46 million

In April, the trade balance was positive in US$ 46 million, compared with the US$ 52 million deficit recorded in April 2003. It should be noted that last 12 month surplus is US$ 1 407 million.

In April, exports amounted to US$ 870 million, up US$ 235 million from a year ago, an annual increase of 37% (41% for traditional and 29% for non-traditional). The former mainly obeyed to the rally in mining exports (US$ 148 million or 41%) and the latter to the increase in textiles (US$ 19 million or 32%) and metal based and jewelry (US$ 14 million or 87%). Against March, exports dropped by US$ 96 million (9,9%), mainly due to lower mining exports.

Imports totaled US$ 824 million in April, up 20% from a year ago. The most dynamic items were acquisitions of intermediate and capital goods (21 and 37%, respectively), whereas imports of consumer goods remained almost unchanged. Compared with March, imports are 7% higher.

Terms of trade rose 17,8% in April, due to the marked increased in export prices (23,4%), partially offset by the increase in import prices (4,7%). The growth of export prices obey to higher quotation of copper (81,2%), tin (98,5%), iron (56%), gold (23,6%), silver (67,8%), lead (54,6%), zinc (28,0%) and oil & derivatives (47,9%), whereas the increase in import prices is a result of dearer crude oil & derivatives (2,6%), wheat (19,0%), soybean (13,7%), meat (9,2%), dairy products (3,4%), rice (41,4%), sugar (8,1%) and corn (9,1%). However, compared with March, terms of trade declined 4,8% due to the drop in mineral quotations.

Spread of Global bond 2012 at 4,52%

As of June 2, the spread of the Peruvian Global bond 2012 and the sovereign bond were 4,52% and 4,76%, respectively. In May, the global bond spread quoted at 4,64%, higher than in April (3,14%), whereas the spread of the sovereign bond passed from 3,38% to 4,75%. Since April 26, the emerging debt has been afflicted by the expected rise in Fed's interest rate and higher risk aversion to emerging markets.

International markets

In May, the gold quotation decreased 4,7% to US$ 385 per Troy ounce due to the appreciation of the US dollar (4,1% against the yen and 0,1% against the euro) that provoked a lower demand for gold among European and Asian investors.

The copper quotation fell 7,1% (from US$ 1,34 to US$ 1,24) reflecting the measures adopted to lower inflationary pressures in China. As of June 2, the copper quoted at US$ 1,31 whereas LME inventories decreased to 131 thousand MT.

In the period under analysis, the zinc quotation decreased 0,1% to US$ 0,47 per pound. As of June 2, the zinc quoted at US$ 0,50, whereas LME inventories decreased from 732 to 726 thousand MT.

The WTI oil price soared 9,7% in May (to US$ 40,7 per barrel), due to the higher expected world demand and low US inventories.

The US dollar depreciated 1,7% against the euro and 1,0% against the yen. However, since May 14, this trend was reversed due to the expected rise in Fed's interest rate.

However, the effect of higher oil quotations on US economy and the strong recovery in Japan and the Eurozone affected the US currency.

The 3-month Libor passed from 1,18% to 1,32%, whereas the yield of US Treasury bonds with a 10 year maturity rose from 4,51 to 4,65%. The demand for US treasury bonds decreased due to the likely increase in Fed's interest rates and the concerns about US inflation.

Lima Stock Exchange (LSE)

In May, the LSE recorded an increase of 3,5% for the General Index and 3,7% for the Blue Chip Index. As of June 2, the General index increase 0,1% and Blue Chip index dropped 0,3%. However, in the year these indices record cumulative increases of 20,3% and 22,7%, respectively.
