Spread of Global bond 2012 at 4,05%

As of June 9, the spread of the Peruvian Global bond 2012 was 4,05% (versus 4,46% in May) whereas the spread of the sovereign bond reached 4,20% (4,73% in May). On June 8, Standard and Poor's upgraded the rating of the Peruvian sovereign debt in foreign currency from BB- to BB (two levels under the investment grade frontier). The reasons were the strong fundamentals of the economy and its good prospects in the medium term. On the other hand, Fitch improved the outlook of the Peruvian debt from stable to positive, arguing the good management of the public finance, the external account and a reduced vulnerability of the fiscal financing.

International markets

Between June 2 to 9, the gold quotation decreased 1,6% to US$ 387 per Troy ounce due to the appreciation of the US dollar that provoked a lower demand for gold among European and Asian investors.

The copper quotation fell 5,1% (to US$ 1,24) due to the fears that a rise in US interest rates might affect the demand from this country. On the other hand, Morgan Stanley revised downward its average price forecast in 7%, whereas BHP Billiton and Phelps Dodge Corp. announced a production increase. However, LME inventories decreased from 131 to 124 thousand MT.

In the period under analysis, the zinc quotation decreased 3,4% to US$ 0,49 per pound following the trend of the other metals. LME inventories decreased from 726 to 716 thousand MT.

The WTI oil price dropped 6,1% (to US$ 37,5 per barrel) after the OPEC announced an increase of supply of 2 million barrels per day since July and 500 thousand more in August. On the other hand, US inventories reached its maximum level of last 2 years lowering the concern of a lack of supply during the boreal summer.

The US dollar appreciated 1,5% against the euro and 0,4% against the yen, following the comments of Alan Greenspan, who emphasized that the FED will maintain inflation under control.

The 3-month Libor passed from 1,34% to 1,43%, whereas the yield of US Treasury bonds with a 10 year maturity rose from 4,74 to 4,81%. The labor market saw an increase in non-farm payrolls (248 thousand new jobs) whereas March and April data were revised upward. This fact along with a increasing concern about inflation has taken the market to consider that the FED's adjustments of interest rates can be higher than the predicted ones.

Lima Stock Exchange (LSE)

As of June 9, the LSE decreased 0,7% in its General Index and 1,9% in the Blue Chip Index due to the lower expected profitability of the mining sector. In the year these indices record cumulative increases of 19,4% and 20,7%, respectively.
