

CENTRAL RESERVE BANK OF PERU

WEEKLY REPORT

Nº 40 – October 7, 2004

Net international reserves at US$ 11 265 million

During September net international reserves (NIR) amounted to US$ 11 187 million, up US$ 224 million from end-August. This increase was mainly due to higher financial and pension system deposits (US$ 93 and US$ 3 million, respectively), foreign currency purchases (US$ 225 million) and investment returns (US$ 33 million), which were partially offset by the net sales of foreign currency (US$ 70 million) and lower public sector deposits (US$ 60 million).

As of October 5, net international reserves (NIR) amounted to US$ 11 265 million, up

US$ 78 million from end-September. This increase was mainly due to higher private deposits (US$ 10 million), purchase of foreign exchange (US$ 34 million) and higher public deposits (US$ 45 million) which were partially offset by lower pensions system deposits (US$ 4 million) and investment returns (US$ 7 million).

Starting this year, NIRs have increased US$ 1 070 million, whereas the Central Bank's international position (US$ 5 750 million) grew by US$ 1 167 million.

Interbank interest rate at 2,80%

As of September, the average interbank interest rate in domestic currency was 2,73%, higher than August's (2,67%). As of October 6 the average interbank rate was 2,80%.

Monetary operations

As of October 6, the daily average balance of banks' liquidity at the Central Bank was S/. 201 million. Between September 29 and October 6, the Central Bank made the following operations:

- Auctions of temporary purchases of CDBCRP with a i) 1-day maturity by S/. 110, S/. 50 and S/. 60 million at an average interest rate of 2,81, 2,80 and 2,83%; ii) 3-day by S/. 200 million at 2,81% ;

- Auctions of CDBCRP with a i) 9-month maturity by S/. 60 at an average interest rate of 4,04%.
- Net Foreign exchange Purchases of US$ 53,5 million at an average rate of S/. 3,3362.
- Overnight deposits on September 30 for S/. 83,5 million.

Corporate prime interest rate at 3,55%

During September, the 90-day average corporate prime interest rate in domestic currency dropped from 3,56% to 3,52% in August. As of October 6, this average rate is 3,55%. On the other hand, the rate in dollars raised from 2,15% in August to 2,23% in September. As of October 6, this rate is 2,34%.

Exchange rate: S/. 3,333

During September the exchange rate was S/. 3,358 which meant a nominal appreciation of 1,1 percent with respect to August. With this, the yearly appreciation equals 3,3%. Regarding September 2003 the appreciation was 3,5%. These appreciations reflected the maintenance of low devaluatory expectations associated with the favorable external conditions (commercial surplus, higher transfers, and new investment projects).

During September 2004, the Central Bank bought US$ 223,5 million while Banco de la Nación sold out US$ 27 million. On the other hand, the BCRP sold US$ 69 million to Banco de la Nación out of the counter.

The multilateral real exchange rate of August showed an appreciation of 0,4 percent with regard to August. This result is explained basically by the 1,1 percent nominal appreciation given that the differential among the variation of the external prices (0,7 %) and the domestic prices was almost nil (0,02%).

Up to October 6, the exchange was S/. 3,333. Up to the month, the BCRP intervened purchasing US$ 39 million over the counter. Besides, the balance of net forward sales augmented by US$ 19 million by October 5, whereas the exchange position dropped in US$ 7 million.

Monetary base as of September, 2004

The monetary base balance as of September was S/. 7 751 million, down 0% (S/. 75 million) from end-August. In average terms, the year on year rate of growth of the monetary base was 20,0% compared with 16,9% in August.

The main explanations for this result were purchase of foreign currency (US$ 224 million or S/. 751 million) and lower overnight deposits of financial enterprises (S/. 66 million). On the other hand, operations reducing monetary base were CDBCRP auctions for (S/. 630 million), dollar sales to the public sector (US$ 70 million or S/. 233 million) and higher public sector deposits (S/. 109 million).

Banking system monetary accounts: September 15, 2004

During the las 4 weeks up to September 15, liquidity in domestic currency increased 2,9% (S/. 607 million) to a balance of S/. 21 671 million (15,8% for the year). Credit to the private sector in the same currency augmented in 1,8% (S/. 190 million) to S/. 10 803 million. However, in annual terms this aggregates grew by 8,0%.

Liquidity in foreign currency rose 2,2% (US$ 210 million) to US$ 9 576 million, down 0,9% from a year ago. For this year, annual growth rate is 0,2%. In relation to the private sector, this was 0,9% (US$ 86 million) mounting US$ 9 806 million.

August trade surplus: US$ 240 million

August 2004 saw a positive trade balance -for a sixth consecutive month- of US$ 230 million, up US$ 129 million from a year ago. Thus, last 12 month record reached US$ 1 957 million.

Exports recorded a top of US$ 1 127 million this month, US$ 369 million or 49 percent higher than August 2003 (an increase of 55 percent for traditional products and 38 percent for non-traditional ones). Traditional exports were mainly accounted for a higher sale of mining products (US$ 192 million, or 50 percent increase) and fisheries (US$ 95 million, or 161 percent increase). On the other hand, higher exports of non-traditional products were accounted for textile- (US$ 27 million, or 40 percent increase) and farm products (US$ 20 million, or 42 percent increase). Against July 2004, exports grew by 1 percent (US$ 12 million), both traditional and non-traditional exports increased 1 percent -exports of mining and farm products stood out with rises of 6 and 8 percent, respectively-.

Imports amounted to US$ 897 million in August, the highest figure since last April, up 37 percent from August 2003 and 14 percent from July 2004. The former was explained by larger acquisitions of intermediate goods (57 percent) –of which fuels grew by 132 percent- and of capital goods (21 percent); namely transportation equipment and building materials; whereas imports of consumer goods increased 11 percent (23 percent for non durables). Against July 2004, imports expanded 14 percent thanks to larger acquisitions of intermediate-, capital- and consumer goods (17, 15 and 4 percent, respectively).

Terms of trade increased 7,4 percent between August 2003 and August 2004. Average export prices grew by 17,3 percent, exceeding the increase in import prices (9,2 percent). The increase in export prices obeyed to dearer ores, whereas the higher quotations for oil, wheat, soybean and dairy products explained the rise of imports prices.

Spread of Global bond 2012 at 3,08%

During September, the spread of the Peruvian Global ten-year Bond and Sovereign Bonds were priced at 3,06% after being at 3,33% and 3,23% from 3,57% respectively. This reduction is basically explained by lower risk perception and by new investment projects and improvement of exports. As of October 6, the spread of the Peruvian Global ten-year Bond and Sovereign Bonds were priced at 3,08% and 3,25% respectively as a market correction after a 9,5% fall in September.

International markets

In September, the gold quotation increased 1,7% to US$ 417,40 per troy ounce due to the fact that this metal is being bought as a cover strategy facing the risk of inflation derived from the high oil prices as the weakening of the US Dollar. Continuing in the same trend, as of October 6, gold quotation was US$ 420 per troy ounce.

During September, the copper quotation increased 10,3% to US$1,42 per pound, as the LME inventories fell 11% to 93 thousand MT. This falling has been generated by a broader Chinese demand (17%) while at August imports grew in 36%, and by strike of workers from Southern Peru Copper Corporation that lasted 13 days. As of October 6 the copper quotation raised to US$1,44. Over this week, LME inventories continued at low levels explained by a higher US and Chinese demands and by the strike at Atlantic Copper (the principal copper mine in Spain).

In September, the zinc quotation increased 12,40% to US$ 0,49 per pound. Chinese demand for this base metal is expected to grow significantly the next year due to projects in the galvanized iron industry. As of October 6, zinc was US$ 0,51 per pound.

The WTI oil price grew 18,6% to US$ 49,6 per barrel because of hurricane Ivan interrupting Mexican production, problems in Yukos oil company, and by revels threatening of oil field targeting in Nigeria, the worlds 9th producer.

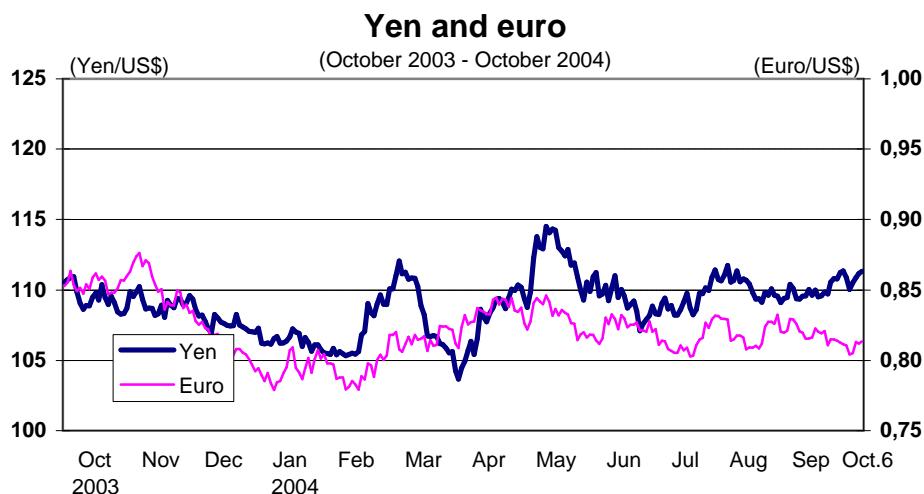

As of October 6, the WTI oil price grew to US$ 52,0 per barrel due to the situation in Nigeria and by hurricane Ivan causing lack of supply in the US which has generated expectations of insufficient supply for a cold winter.

The US dollar depreciated by 0,3% against the euro (from 1,22 to 1,23 dollar per Euro) and appreciated 0,1% against the yen ( from 110,23 to 110,08 yen per dollar).

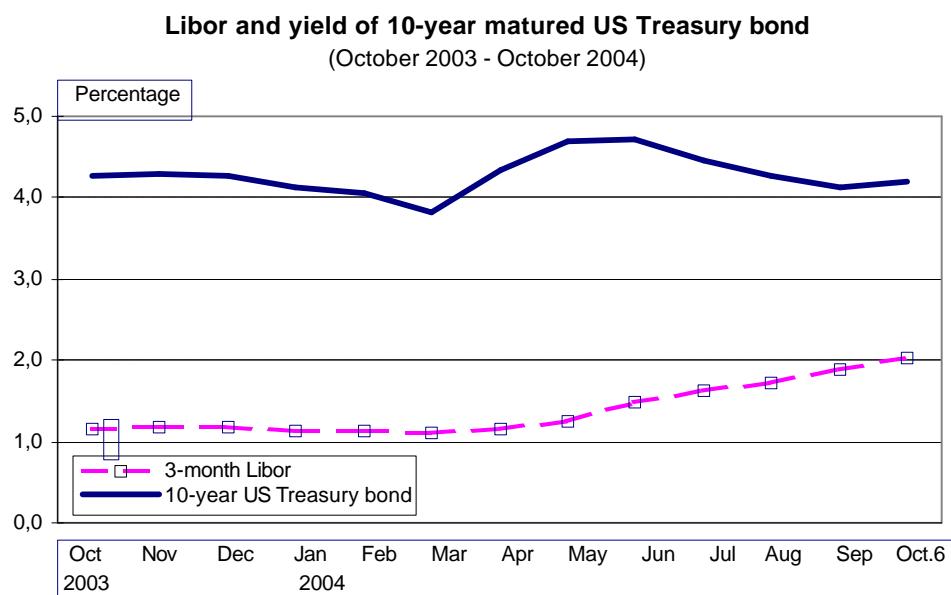

During September 29 and October 26 the Dollar depreciated 0,5% and appreciated 0,3% against the yen. During the week, the Dollar kept fluctuating in small margin against the Euro appreciating 0,2 at the end of the week (from 1,2324 to 1,2304 per Euro). The Dollar was favored by increasing perspectives on the US economic Growth as a consequence of favorable economic indicators in that country. That accompanied by the ECB's (European Central Bank) president with respect to the fact that it would maintain its interest rate at 2% up to 2005.
