Net international reserves at US$ 13 934 millions

As of May 10, net international reserves (NIR) amounted to US$ 13 934 millions, up US$ 305 millions from end-April. This increase was mainly due to net purchases of foreign exchange by US$ 63 millions, higher financial system and public sector deposits in US$ 247 and US$ 5 millions, respectively. This evolution was partially offset by changes in the value of currencies and gold in US$ 10 millions.

The main explanations for this result were temporary purchases of securities (S/. 315 millions), purchases of foreign currency over-the-counter mechanism (US$ 45 millions or S/. 147 millions), lower public sector deposits (S/. 141 millions) and lower financial system overnight deposits (S/. 58 millions).

Spread of the Global bond 2012: 2,07 percent

Between May 4 and 11, the spread of the Peruvian Global Bond 2012 fell from 2,14 to 2,07 percent and the spread of the sovereign bonds (EMBI+ Peru) raised from 2,24 to 2,27 percent. In a context of increases in the spreads of the emerging market, the Peruvian debt stayed thanks to the significant increase of the tax revenues in April.

International markets

Between May 4 and 11, the gold price fell 0,2 percent to US$ 428 per troy ounce due to strengthening of the US dollar after an increase of employment during April and the fall of the trade deficit in March in the United States.

During the same period, copper prices increased 1,1 percent to US$ 1,51 per pound due to a comeback of the Chinese demand after the end of a 1 week holiday and by the positive news regarding the US economy, the world's second most important consumer.

The zinc price increased 1,7 percent to US$ 0,57 per pound due to the fall in the London Metal Exchange's stocks. In the week, these stocks dropped from 542 to 539 thousand MT.

Between May 4 and 11, the WTI oil price increased 0,6 percent to US$ 50,5 per barrel, as a consequence of a possible deficit during the fourth quarter of the year if the OPEC can't put up with the market.

Nevertheless, oil prices show an approximate diminution of 14 percent respect to their record registered on April 4 as the increase of US crude inventories at their maximum level since July of 1999.

During the week, the US dollar appreciated 1,1 percent against the Euro and 1,2 percent against the Yen. The dollar benefited from the news that 274 thousand employments were generated by the US economy in April while the market expected 174 thousand. Besides this, during March, the US trade deficit fell to US$ 55 billion, lesser than the US$ 61 billion in February.

Between May 4 and 11, the 3-month Libor interest rate rose from 3,22 to 3,26 percent, whereas the yield of the US

Treasuries with a 10-year maturity increased from 4,19 to 4,20 percent.

Lima Stock Exchange

Up to May 11, the General and the Blue Chip Index fell 3,1 and 2,9 percent, respectively. During the last week, the worse performing stocks were Cerro Verde, Southern Peru and Buenaventura. Nevertheless, year-to-date, the indexes augmented 4,1 and 3,4 percent, respectively.
