Interbank Interest Rate in Domestic Currency
(February 2006 - February 2007)

Corporate prime rate in soles decreased to 5.20 percent

In the February 7 – February 14 period, the daily average of the 90-day corporate prime rate in soles decreased from 5.21 percent to 5.20 percent, while this rate in dollars decreased from 6.10 percent to 6.08 percent.

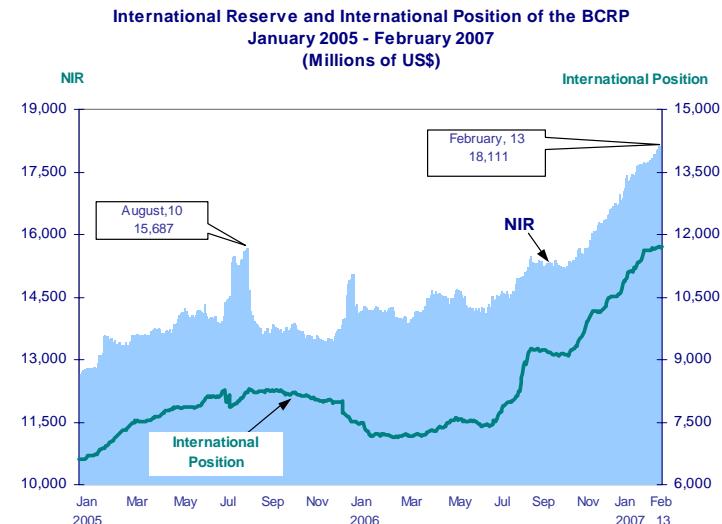

Monetary operations

Between February 8 and February 14, 2007, the Central Bank made the following monetary operations: i) auctions of BCRP Certificates of Deposit with 1-day, 3-day, 1-week, 6-month, 1-year, 18-month, 2-year and 3-year maturities for a daily average of S/. 527.0 million. The average interest rate on these operations fluctuated between 4.28 and 5.93 percent; ii) purchases of foreign currency at the Central Bank's Front Office for a total of US$ 35 million, at an average exchange rate of S/. 3.189 per dollar; iii) sales of foreign currency to the Public Treasury for a total of US$15 million; and iv) overnight deposits in domestic currency for a total of S/. 253.2 million.

International reserves at US$ 18,111 million as of February 13

As of February 13, net International reserves (NIRs) increased US$ 261 million with respect to the close of January and amounted to US$ 18,111 million. This increase in the balance of NIRs was mainly due to deposits of the financial system (US$ 246 million), a transitory deposit assigned to the payment of external obligations by US$ 20 million, BCRP's foreign exchange operations by US$ 15 million, higher valuation of other securities by US$ 13 million and higher investment yield (US$ 3 million). This result was offset by a decrease in public sector deposits (US$ 39 million).

As of February 13, the international position of the BCRP (US$ 11,706 million) has increased US$ 29 million with respect to the close of January.

Exchange rate as of February 14: S/. 3.190 per dollar

Between February 7 and February 14, the average ask price of the interbank exchange rate fell from S/. 3.191 to S/. 3.190 per dollar, as a result of which the nuevo sol appreciated 0.3 percent. During the first 14 days of February, the Central Bank intervened in the exchange market buying US$ 40 million at the BCRP's Front Office.

Interbank Ask- Exchange Rate and Net Purchases of Foreign Currency
(November 2006 - February 2007)

Monetary base as of February 7, 2007

The balance of the monetary base as of February 7 (S/. 13,530 million) increased 4.7 percent (S/. 603 million) with respect to end-January 2007. In average terms, the annual growth rate of the monetary base in this period was 19.0 percent (17.2 percent in January).

By sources, the operations contributing to the expansion of the monetary base were the lower public sector deposits (S/. 344 million), the net redemption of Central Bank Certificates of Deposit (S/. 112 million), the lower overnight deposits of the financial system (S/. 90 million) and the purchases of foreign currency at the Central Bank's Front Office (US$ 16 million ó S/. 5 million).

Liquidity and credit to the private sector as of January 22

In the last four weeks, liquidity in domestic currency decreased 0.3 percent (S/. 107 million), reaching a balance of S/. 34,733 million (annual growth of 21.9 percent). Credit to the private sector in domestic currency increased 0.4 percent (S/. 92 million), thus amounting to S/. 24,661 million (annual growth of 28.5 percent).

Liquidity in foreign currency decreased by 0.1 percent (US$ 15 million) and reached a balance of US$ 12,915 million (annual growth of 11.7 percent). Credit to the private sector in foreign currency decreased 4.5 percent (US$ 552 million), thus amounting to US$ 11,840 million (annual growth of 5.6).

International markets

Country risk at 128 basis points

Between February 7 and 14, the country risk indicator, measured by the EMBI+ Peru spread, decreased from 129 to 128 basis points, continuing with the tendency of regional spreads.

Oil quotation increased to US$ 58.0 per barrel

The price of WTI oil increased 0.5 percent a US$ 58.0 per barrel between February 7 and 14, given that a greater global demand for this year was estimated by the International Energy Agency (production is expected to increase 1.8 percent to 86 million b/d, that is, 270 thousand b/d more than the amount estimated last month), and favored by the decline of crude and gasoline inventories in the US.

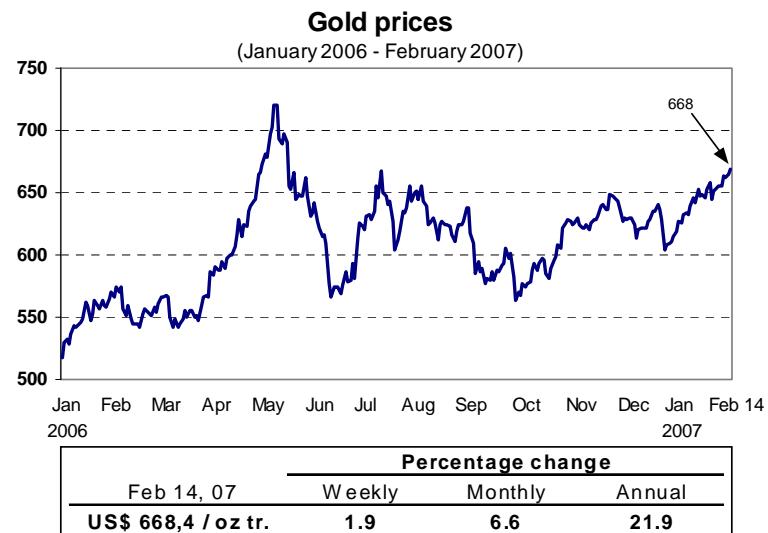

The US Department of Energy reported that inventories of crude and gasoline decreased by 0.6 and 2.0 million barrels to 323.9 and 225.2 million barrels respectively.

Moreover, the rise in the price of crude was slightly offset by Saudi Arabia's announcement that it would increase its oil exports to Asia next month, and by expectations of a less cold weather in the East of the US.

resumen informativo

Between February 7 and 14, the gold quotation increased 1.9 percent to US$ 668.4 per troy ounce, due to the higher physical demand of China, the depreciation of the dollar against the euro—which increases the appeal of gold as an investment option—, the rise in the price of oil, and higher geopolitical concerns due to conflicts in the Middle East. During the week, gold recorded record levels in terms of the last 6 months.

The price of copper increased 5.4 percent to US$ 2.55 per pound. This evolution resulted from expectations of greater demand in China—annual imports of copper increased by 44 percent in January—, and to fears of a supply interruption given the probable strike of workers at the Southern Copper Corporation smelter in Ilo.

In February 7 – 14, the price of zinc increased 2.8 percent to US$ 1.46 per pound, despite the higher levels of inventories at the London Metal Exchange, which increased by 0.4 percent to 97,075 MT during the week. This rise in the price of zinc was due to an improved position of investors after they recorded important losses last week due to the losses of a hedging fund. Moreover, the zinc market was encouraged by investors' growing expectations that China will soon be back at the market.

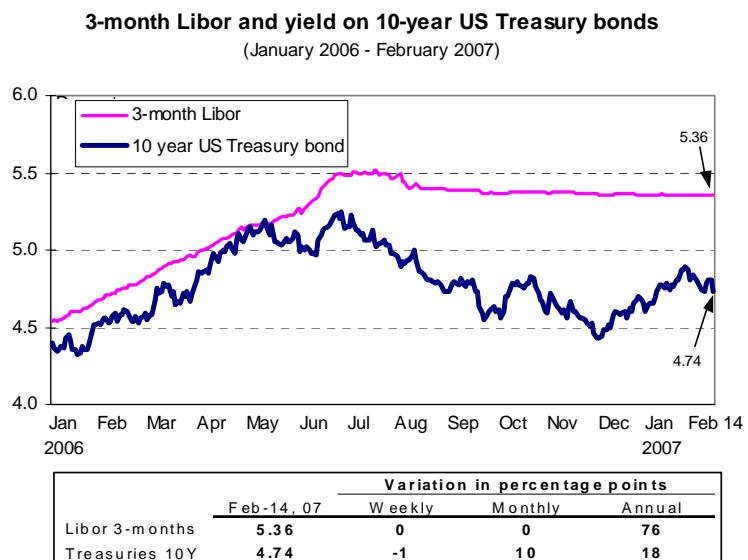

Dollar depreciated against the euro

In the period of analysis, the dollar depreciated 0.8 percent against the euro and 0.1 percent against the yen. The euro strengthened due to the higher growth posted by the Eurozone in 2006 and to the greater economic expansion observed in Germany and France in the fourth quarter of that year. This has generated greater expectations that the European Central Bank will raise its interest rate next month. Moreover, the statement of the president of the Federal Reserve, Ben Bernanke, on the reduction of inflationary risks in the US decreased expectations regarding a future rise of interest rates.

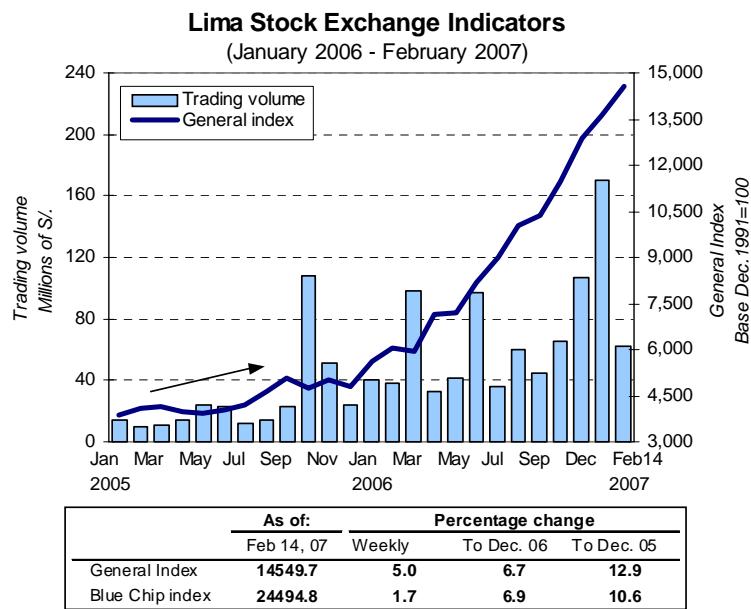

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries decreased to 4.74 percent

Between February 7 and 14, the 3-month Libor remained at 5.36 percent and the yield on the 10-year US Treasury bond decreased from 4.75 to 4.74 percent after a US Government report showed that the US trade deficit had increased more than expected in December. Another factor contributing to this result was that the president of the Federal Reserve, Ben Bernanke, declared that there would be a higher control of inflation.

Lima Stock Exchange grew 6.7 percent as of February 14

As of February 14, the General and Blue Chip indices of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) grew 6.7 and 6.9 percent respectively. The indices of the LSE were influenced by investors better positions in the sectors of electricity and massive consumption given expectations of a strong increase of domestic demand and the strong rise observed in the prices of basic and precious metals in the international market. This same trend was also observed in several Latin American stock exchange markets, some of which even posted higher levels due to the positive comments made by the president of the Federal Reserve with respect to the evolution of the US economy, which encouraged investment in emerging markets.

So far this year, the LSE indices have increased 12.9 and 10.6 percent respectively.
