resumen informativo

International reserves amounted to US$ 23,578 million on October 9

Net international reserves (NIRs) increased US$ 750 million compared to end September and amounted to US$ 23,578 million on October 9. This increase in the balance of NIRs was mainly due to BCRP exchange operations (US$ 963 million) and to higher investment yield (US$ 11 million). This result was partially offset by lower banks' deposits (US$ 101 million) and by public sector's lower deposits (US$ 88 million), as well as by the lower valuation of other securities (US$ 35 million).

International Reserve and International Position of the BCRP

(Millions of US$)

Furthermore, the International Position of the BCRP by October 9 (US$ 16,953 million) increased by US$ 929 million compared to end September.

Exchange rate at S/. 3.017 per dollar

Between October 3 and 10, the average ask price of the interbank exchange rate fell from S/. 3.026 to S/. 3.017 per dollar, as a result of which the Nuevo Sol appreciated 2.3 percent relative to end September.

The Central Bank intervened in the exchange market purchasing US$ 608 million at the Central Bank's Foreign Exchange Desk between October 3 and 10.

INTERBANK ASK- EXCHANGE RATE AND NET PURCHASES OF FOREIGN CURRENCY (July - October 2007)

Monetary base by October 7, 2007

The balance of the monetary base by October 7 (S/. 15,048 million) increased 3.0 percent (S/. 435 million) compared to end-September. In average terms, the annual growth rate of the monetary base in this period was 30.3 percent (27.3 percent in September).

By sources, the operations that contributed most heavily to the increase of the monetary base were purchases of foreign currency at the Central Bank's front desk (US$ 900 million, or S/. 2,732 million) and public sector's lower deposits (S/. 437 million). Conversely, the monetary base contracted due to net placements of BCRP Certificates of Deposit (S/. 2,654 million) and to banks' higher overnight deposits (S/. 108 million).

Liquidity and credit to the private sector by September 15

In the last four weeks, liquidity in domestic currency increased 2.1 percent (S/. 802 million), thus amounting to S/. 38,173 million (annual growth of 33.8 percent). Credit to the private sector in domestic currency increased by 2.6 percent (S/. 744 million) and totaled S/. 29,738 million (annual growth of 35.4 percent).

Liquidity in foreign currency increased by 2.5 percent (US$ 296 million), thus amounting to US$ 12,244 million (annual growth of 17.2 percent). Credit to the private sector in foreign currency increased 1.6 percent (US$ 200 million) and totaled US$ 12,678 million (annual growth of 12.5 percent).

Trade surplus of US$ 528 million in August

In Augus 2007 the trade balance showed a surplus of US$ 528 million. As a result of this, the trade surplus so far this year amounts to US$ 5,015 million and accumulates a positive result of US$ 8,579 million in the last twelve months.

Exports in August amounted to US$ 2,336 million –a level US$ 321 million (16 percent) higher than in August last year–, which represents a 17 percent increase so far this year. Exports over the last twelve months totaled US$ 26,251 million.

Traditional exports increased to US$ 1,776 million, up 18 percent compared to August 2006 (accumulating a growth rate of 16 percent so far this year). The higher sales abroad of copper (up US$ 141 million or 29 percent), molybdenum (up US$ 66 million or 81 percent), and fish meal (up US$ 56 million or 80 percent) are worth mentioning.

Non-traditional exports amounted to US$ 531 million, increasing by 8 percent relative to August last year (18 percent by August). Exports of agricultural, chemical and non-metallic minerals products were noteworthy.

Imports, which totaled US$ 1,808 million in August, increased by 45 percent compared to August 2006 and show a 30 percent increase so far this year. Although all imported products increased in July, it is worth pointing out the higher purchases of capital goods (up 41 percent), particularly for the hydrocarbons, manufacturing and transport sectors. It is also worth pointing out the increase seen in imports of inputs, particularly those for industry (up 40 percent), in consumer goods (up 19 percent), particularly durable goods, and an increase in the import of fuels (89 percent).

Country risk at 127 basis points on October 10

Between October 3 and 10, the average country risk indicator, measured by the EMBI+ Peru spread, decreased from 138 to 127 basis points, following the trend observed in the region (the EMBI+ Latin America fell from 221 to 207 basis points). This evolution was influenced by a lower aversion to the risk.

Average price of petroleum increased to US$ 81.3 per barrel

In the period of analysis, the price of WTI oil increased 1.7 percent to US$ 81.3 per barrel. Factors contributing to this evolution included a drop of crude and gasoline inventories in the United States, concerns about the supply of heating oil due to an increase on the demand for the winter season in the Northern Hemisphere and conflicts in the Middle East.

Between October 3 and 10, the price of gold increased 1.7 percent to US$ 742.9 per ounce troy. This result was associated with the depreciation of the dollar against other main currencies (which increased the appeal of gold as an investment asset) and higher inflationary risks due to the increase of the price of crude oil (which encouraged the demand of gold as a hedge asset).

In the same period, the average price of copper decreased to US$ 3.69 per pound (2.0 percent) due to an increase on London Metal Exchange inventories, to a relief on the concerns about an interruption of copper supply as a result of labor disputes in the main mines in Peru and the report of Codelco, the first world producer, that appoints an increase on its production for 2008 as part of their operational expansion plan. This result was partially offset by the expectations of an increase of the consumption of China during the next autumn season, when the industrial production traditionally increases.

Between October 3 and 10, the average price of zinc fell 1.9 percent to US$ 1.38 per pound. This result was mainly influenced by the end of the strikes in some mines in Peru and the report of an investment bank that appoints a surplus in the production of the metal for 2008. This result was partially offset by the lower inventories reported on the London Metal exchange (1.7 percent or 59,225 MT).

Dollar depreciated against the euro

Between October 3 and 10, the dollar depreciated 0.4 percent against the euro and appreciated 0.4 percent against the yen. The dollar weakened against the euro mainly due to expectations that the Fed will decrease its interest rate before the end of the year, after the publication of the September 18 FOMC meeting minutes, where a concern on the US economic growth is appointed.

Moreover, the yen weakened against the dollar after the carry trade operations restarted, the earnings recorded in the stock markets and the decision of the Bank of Japan to maintain its interest rate in 0.5 percent, the lowest of the industrialized world.

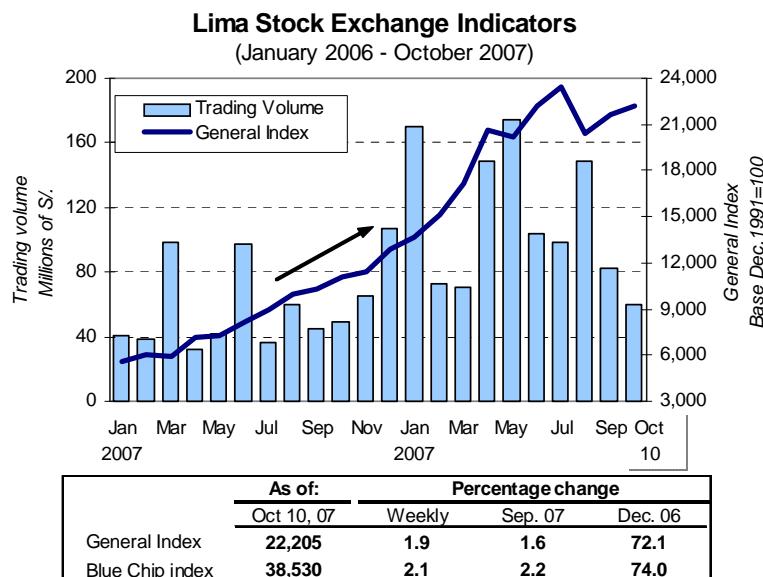

Yield on the 10-year US Treasuries increased to 4.65 percent Between October 3 and 10, the 3-month Libor remained on 5.25 percent and the yield on the 10-year US Treasury bond increased from 4.56 to 4.65 percent. The increase seen on the Treasury bond yield is explained by better employment data on September, which included an increase in the prior two months, and the minutes of the September 18 FOMC meeting, where the cut of 50 bps was chosen unanimously, before the subprime effects spread to the real economy.

Lima Stock Exchange grew 1.6 percent

The General and Blue Chip indices of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) increased 1.6 and 2.2 percent respectively by October 10, following the trend of the main stock markets. This result was driven by better work environment in the financial sector worldwide, an increase in the capital level due to higher liquidity in the market, higher prices of base metals and favorable expectations on the business reports for the third quarter, that will be published on the third week of October.

So far this year, the General and Blue Chip indices at the LSE have grown 72.1 and 74.0 percent respectively.

* Desde el 29 de setiembre de 2006, el JP Morgan, de acuerdo a sus criterios de liquidez de mercado, ha incluido dentro de su EMBI+ PERÚ los bonos globales Peru 2025 y 2033. Al ser los spreads de dichos bonos cercanos a los 200 pbs, ello explica el aumento de cerca de 40 pbs en el EMBI+ PERÚ a partir del 29 de setiembre.
