Corporate prime rate in nuevos soles rose to 6.96 percent

Between August 5 and 12, the daily average of the 90-day corporate prime rate in domestic currency rose from 6.72 to 6.96 percent, while this rate in dollars rose from 7.02 to 7.27 percent.

Monetary operations

Between August 6 and 12, the Central Bank made the following operations: i) auctions of 1-day, 3-day, 7-day, 3-month, 6-month, and 12-month BCRP Certificates of Deposit with Restricted Negotiation (CDBCRP-NR) for a total of S/. 2,114 million. The interest rate on these operations, which amounted to S/. 21,251 million, was 6.11 percent, and ii) overnight deposits in domestic currency for a total of S/. 1,958 million.

The total balance of BCRP CDs amounts to S/. 12,878 million, of which S/. 5,145 million (40 percent) are held by non-residents and S/. 7,733 million (60 percent) are held by residents.

Demand for currency

Between August 5 and 8, the demand for currency declined by S/. 197 million, in line with the seasonal decline observed in the month of August. In this context, the BCRP operations were aimed at sterilizing liquidity from the financial system through net placements of CDBCRP-NR (S/. 1,503 million). This was in part compensated by lower reserve requirements in soles (S/. 1,255 million) and by the lower deposits of the public sector at the Central Bank (S/. 146 million).

A total of S/. 54,132 million, equivalent to 341.4 percent of currency in circulation, was sterilized. This amount is broken down as follows: public sector deposits (S/. 20,799 million), BCRP Certificates of Deposit (S/. 12,878 million), BCRP Certificates of Deposit of restricted negotiation (S/. 19,384 million), and BCRP term deposits (S/. 283 million). The average remaining maturity term for CDBCRP-NR and for total sterilization instruments as of August 8 is 126 days and 158 days respectively.

International reserves amounted to US$ 35,401 million on August 12

Net international reserves (NIRs), which increased by US$ 558 million compared to end July and by US$ 7,712 million compared to end 2007, amounted to US$ 35,401 million on August 5. This increase in the balance of NIRs is mainly explained by banks' higher deposits (up US$ 959 million) and by higher investment yield (up US$ 3 million). This was in part offset by the lower valuation of reserve assets (down US$ 298 million) and by public sector's lower deposits (down US$ 104 million).

On August 12, the international position of the BCRP (US$ 26,844 million) was US$ 300 million lower than at end July.

Exchange rate: S/. 2.919 per dollar

From August 5 to 12, the average ask price of the interbank exchange rate rose from S/. 2.784 to S/. 2.919 per dollar. The Central Bank did not intervene in the exchange market in this period. So far this month, the nuevo sol has depreciated 3.6 percent.

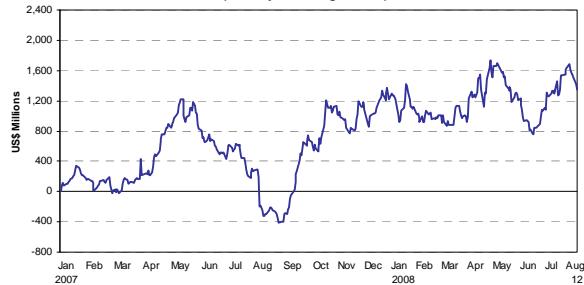

In the same period, banks' balance of net forward purchases of foreign currency decreased by US$ 261.2 million, accumulating a reduction of US$ 293.2 million during this month.

INTERBANK EXCHANGE RATE
(S/. per US$)

The balance of net forward purchases as at August 12 amounted to US$ 1,344 million, of which US$ 922 million (69 percent) are operations with maturities due in August, September, and October 2008.

Trade surplus of US$ 2,382 million in the first semester of 2008

The trade balance, which exclusively records transactions of goods with other countries, showed a surplus of US$ 38 million in June and accumulated a total of US$ 2,382 million in the first semester of this year. A trade surplus of US$ 420 million is estimated for July. With this result, the trade balance would accumulate US$ 2,801 million in 2008.

* The trade balance shows transactions in goods with abroad. The insurance costs and freights of these goods are recorded on the balance of services.

** Forecast.

In June, exports FOB amounted to US$ 2,803 million (exports increased 13.2 percent compared to June 2007), while imports FOB amounted to US$ 2,764 million (imports increased 80.3 percent compared to June 2007).

Traditional exports, which increased 11.2 percent relative to the same period last year, amounted to US$ 2,151 million, particularly as a result of higher sales of gold, hydrocarbons, and fishmeal. Furthermore, non-traditional exports, which increased 19.1 percent compared to June 2007, amounted to US$ 629 million due to the higher sales of agricultural, fishing and chemical products. Lower exports of zinc and copper were observed this month due to temporary embankment delays.

On the other hand, imports totaled US$ 2,764 million –a sum 80.3 percent higher than in June 2007–, particularly due to higher imports of inputs and capital goods. The higher imports of fuels, lubricants and related materials were noteworthy in terms of the former, while extraordinary imports for the natural gas industry were noteworthy in terms of the latter. Moreover, durable goods showed the highest growth in terms of imports of consumer goods.

Based on SUNAT preliminary data, exports in July would amount to US$ 3,159 million. Imports, on the other hand, are projected to amount to US$ 2,610 million. Therefore, a trade surplus of US$ 420 million is expected. This higher level of surplus would be reflecting a rise in the level of exports, particularly minerals, while terms of trade would decline 11.2 percent.

In June, terms of trade dropped 12.3 percent relative to the same period in 2007. The average prices of exports increased 13.8 percent, while the prices of imports increased 29.8 percent in a context of high prices of crude and food. In terms of volume, exports declined 0.5 percent due mainly to lower shipments of traditional products (down 2.1 percent), copper and zinc.

International Markets

Country risk at 189 basis points

Between August 5 and 12, the country risk indicator, measured by the EMBI+ Peru spread, increased from 180 to 189 basis points, showing a similar trend to that of the region (the EMBI+ Latin America rose 11 basis points). This evolution is associated with strong risk aversion in international markets.

Price of copper dropped to US$ 3.29 per pound

Between August 5 and 12, the price of copper dropped 7.0 percent to US$ 3.29 per pound, recording its lowest price in the last 6 months. Factors explaining this evolution included growing inventories at the London Metal Exchange (LME) and concerns about weak demand in China and the United States, the main consuming countries of copper. Moreover, the strengthening of the dollar also boosted sales in most markets of raw materials.

The price of gold fell 7.4 percent and posted its lowest level in 2008 (US$ 815.5 per troy ounce). This fall in the price of gold was due to the strength of the dollar against the euro, which reduced the appeal of gold as a hedge, and the drop of the price of oil.

Between August 5 and 12, the price of zinc declined 5.2 percent to US$ 0.75 per pound. This lower price of zinc was influenced by the fact that inventories at the LME have increased 3.7 percent (to 168 thousand MT), as well as by the strengthening of the dollar, which encouraged stock sales in a market influenced by the weak demand of China and the United States.

The price of WTI oil fell 5.2 percent to US$ 113.0 per barrel between August 5 and 12. The price of oil posted its minimum level in the last three months, influenced by the appreciation of the dollar, the decline of China's imports of crude, and by concerns on global economic growth that affected expectations regarding demand. These effects counterbalanced concerns about supply interruptions as a result of the conflict between Georgia and Russia.

Dollar appreciated against the euro and the yen

Between August 5 and 12, the dollar appreciated 3.5 percent against the euro and 0.8 percent against the yen. The strengthening of the dollar was associated with increased fears regarding the possibility that the economic problems of the United States might spread and generate a global slowdown. Increased evidences of economic difficulties in Europe and Asia have reduced prospects for higher interest rates outside the United States, thus strengthening the demand for the dollar.

Yield on 10-year US Treasury bonds declined to 3.90 percent

Between August 5 and 12, the 3-month Libor remained at 2.80 percent, while the yield on the 10-year Treasury bond fell from 4.02 to 3.90 percent. This fall in the case of the Treasury bond was associated with shrinking employment figures, losses in financial stocks in Wall Street, and new concerns about credit that strengthened the demand for government bonds.

Lima Stock Exchange fell 14.3 percent as of August 12, 2008

As of August 12, the General and Blue Chip indices of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) have fallen 14.3 and 13.7 percent, respectively. During the week, both the General and the Blue Chip indices showed losses of 10.3 and 9.8 percent, respectively, affected by a severe drop in the international prices of metals. This evolution of the LSE indices was in line with the drop of stock exchange markets in the region given the advance of the dollar.

So far this year, the indices of the Lima Stock Exchange have accumulated losses of 32.1 and 32.9 percent, respectively.
