GDP grew 3.1 percent in March

GDP recorded a growth rate of 3.1 percent in March –a higher result than the one observed in the first two months of the year–, thus accumulating a growth rate of 2.0 percent in Q1. This result reflected higher production in the sectors of agriculture (7.3 percent), construction (6.3 percent), and other services (7.0 percent) and offset the drop of production in the sector of non-primary manufacturing (-5.9 percent).

In March the agricultural sector grew 7.3 percent due to increased activity in the sub-sector of agriculture (8.2 percent). Production for industry and the external market grew 9.3 percent as a result of a higher production of hard yellow maize and sugar cane, higher volumes of coffee and grapes for exports, and a higher production of rice and potatoes for the domestic market. On the other hand, the livestock sub-sector continued showing a higher production of poultry (9.6 percent). The agricultural sector accumulated a growth rate of 3.9 percent in Q1.

Production in the fishing sector declined 23.4 percent, due to lower fishing for human consumption (lower catch of yellow mackerel, Pacific chub mackerel, and giant squid) and to lower anchovy catch. This sector accumulated a decline of 19.8 percent in Q1.

The mining and hydrocarbon sector rose 2.5 percent. This result is explained by a higher production of liquid hydrocarbons (51.7 percent), reflecting the start of operation of Pluspetrol Lot 56 and the higher production of Lot 88 in Cuzco -due to an effect base, in the same period of last year Camisea's operations were affected by mechanical failure in the separation plant of Las Malvinas due to the operation of Lot 56-. Also, this outcome was influenced by an increase production of gold (8.8 percent) by Yanacocha; and silver (9.8 percent) by Minings Suyamarca, Volcan and Buenaventura. The mining and hydrocarbon sector accumulated a growth rate of 3.6 percent in Q1.

The production of the manufacturing processing of primary resources decreased 3.0 percent, mainly due to the lower production in the fishing industry and lower refining of non-ferrous metals, partially offset by increased production in the oil refining and meat products. The non-primary manufacturing sector declined 5.9 percent due to lower accumulation in stock in most enterprises. This sector accumulated a contraction of 5.1 percent in Q1.

The construction sector grew 6.3 percent in March; mainly due to the local cement dispatches rose 7.2 percent in this period. The construction sector accumulated a growth rate of 5.1 percent in Q1.

Internacional markets

Country risk at 300 basis points

Between May 12 and 19, the country risk indicator, measured by the EMBIG+ Peru spread, increased from 303 to 300 basis points, showing a similar evolution to the one seen in the region (the EMBIG+Latin America decreased 15 basis points).

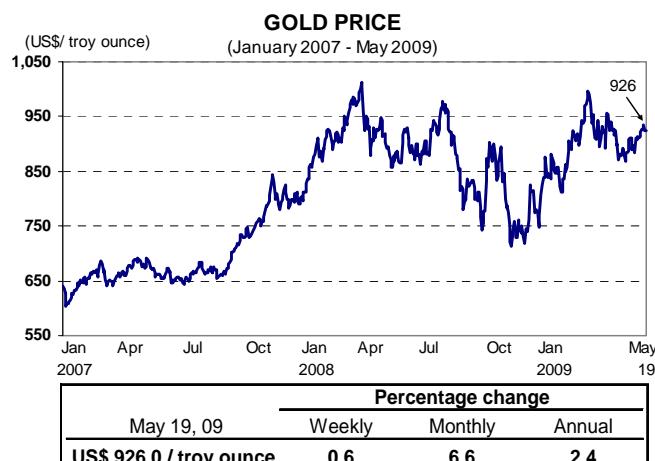

The spreads of emerging market debt reduced after improvements in the economic data in the United States.

Price of gold increase to US$ 926.0 per troy ounce

In the same period of analysis, the price of gold grew 0.6 percent to US$ 926.0 per troy ounce.

This price increase is associated with the higher demand for precious metals as a hedge asset against inflation (core inflation in the United States rose more than expected in April) and with the weakening of the dollar against the yen.

Between May 12 and 19, the price of copper dropped 0.5 percent to US$ 2.09 a pound.

Signs of a possible slowdown in purchases by China, the world's largest consumer of the metal, and the increase of inventories at the major global stock exchange markets generating downward pressures on prices.

Between May 12 and 19, the price of zinc decreased 2.0 percent to US$ 0.69 a pound, despite a decline in inventories in the London Metal Exchange.

Fears of an oversupply of the base metal in China, the largest world consumer, affect the price of zinc.

The price of WTI oil rose 1.4 percent to US$ 59.7 per barrel between May 12 and 19.

Troubles of attacks on pipelines in Nigeria and a fire on a refinery in the eastern coast of United States, which rekindled fears about supplies, were the main factors to lead to the oil price upwards. The fall in U.S. crude inventories accentuated this trend.

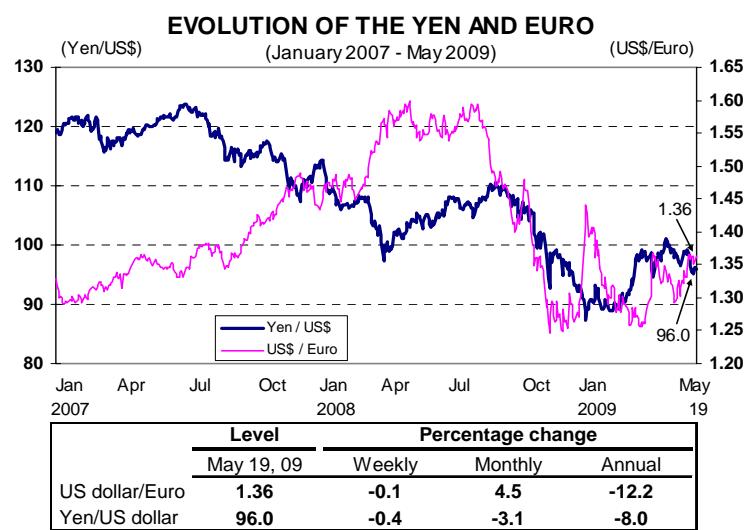

Dollar appreciated against the euro

Between May 12 and 19, the dollar appreciated 0.1 percent against the euro.

The negative trend in the euro was explained by the poor activity indicators in the Eurozone (quarterly annualized growth in the region was -9.6 percent), with Germany, Holland and Italy countries with the worst contractions.

Against the yen, the dollar depreciated by 0.4 percent.

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries increased to 3.25 percent

Between May 12 and 19, the 3-month Libor decreased from 0.91 to 0.75, while the yield on the 10-year Treasury bond increased from 3.18 to 3.25 percent.

The optimism in the financial sector of United States was reflected in a lower demand for Treasury securities and the subsequent rise in long-term yields for these titles.

Lima Stock Exchange has increased 22.2 percent as of May 19, 2009

So far this month (until May 19), the General and Blue Chip indices of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) have increased 22.2 and 25.1 percent, respectively.

during the week of analysis (May 12-19), both indices showed positive evolutions of 2.5 and 1.70 percent, respectively, driven by positive developments on Wall Street and markets in the region and the stability of metal prices, after a week of renewed enthusiasm among investors

So far this year, the LSE indices have accumulated gains of 73.0 and 77.0 percent, respectively.
