The real multilateral exchange rate decreased 0.3 percent relative to the previous month, but this increased 0.8 percent relative to December 2008.

The international investment position of the BCRP on October 5 was US$ 22,088 million, a sum US$ 31 million higher than at end September.

The terms of trade in August increased 2.8 percent relative to July 2009 due to the higher prices of exports (5.0 percent), associated with the higher prices of copper, zinc, and metallurgical products. Imports, on the other hand, have increased 2.1 percent. Terms of trade, which have shown a favorable trend since the first months of this year, have increased 20.7 percent since December 2008.

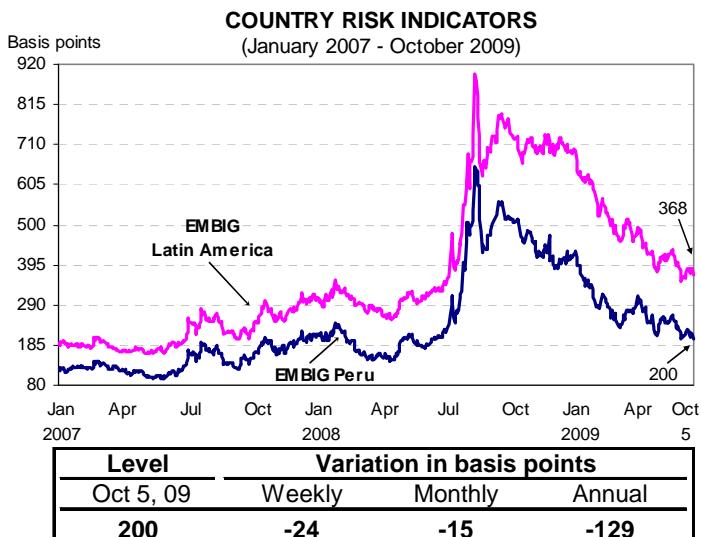

International Markets

Country risk at 200 basis points on October 5

On October 5, the EMBIG Peru decreased to 200 points.

In September, the average country risk measured by the EMBIG Peru spread fell from 240 in July to 225 basis points, showing a similar evolution to the one observed in the region (the region's spread fell 22 basis points).

The decline in the spread of emerging market debt in the region was explained by lower risk aversion in a context of positive economic indicators in the U.S. and Europe.

Price of gold rises to US$ 1,004.8 a troy ounce

On October 5, the price of gold reached US$ 1,004.8 per troy ounce.

In September, the average price of gold increased from US$ 950.7 in August to US$ 995.5 per troy ounce (4.7 percent).

This price rise was associated with the weakening of the dollar against other major currencies. Strong speculative positions and growing demand for portfolio investment purposes also encouraged the increase observed in the price of gold.

On October 5 the copper price was US$ 2.66 a pound.

In September, the average price of copper rose 0.4 percent, from US$ 2.80 in August to US$ 2.81 per pound.

The price of copper was driven by expectations of a recovery in demand following a favorable outlook for the global economy. However, higher inventories at the London Metal Exchange and lower Chinese imports offset the price increase.

resumen informativo

On October 5 the price of zinc was US $ 0.84 per pound.

The average price of zinc recorded an increase of 3.3 percent in September (the average price of zinc increased from US$ 0.83 in August to $ 0.85 a pound in September).

Expectations of improved demand and fears that China may soon close some metal smelters sustained this price increase.

On October 5, the price of WTI oil was US$ 70.4 per barrel.

The average price of WTI oil fell 2.3 percent, from US$ 71.1 in August to US$ 69.5 per barrel in September.

Concerns about the evolution and maintenance of oil demand in China and higher gasoline and distillate inventories in the U.S. influenced this price drop.

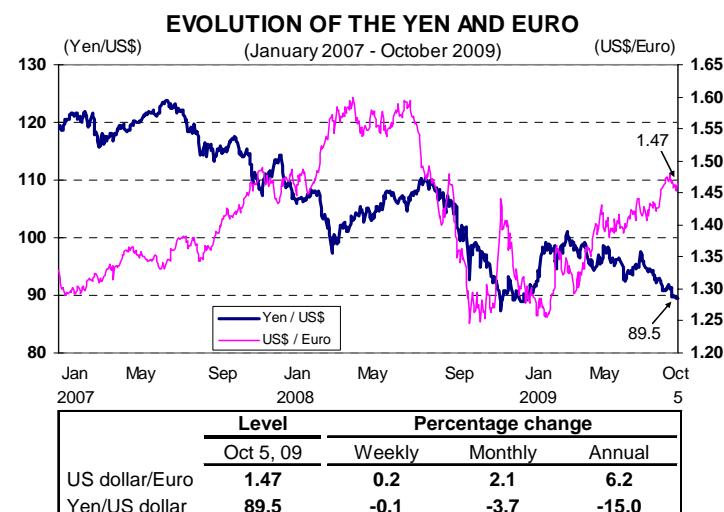

On average, the dollar depreciated against the euro

In September, the dollar depreciated on average 2.1 percent against the euro.

This evolution of the U.S. currency reflected lower risk aversion (which reduced the appeal of the US currency as a safe asset), as well as concerns about the role of the dollar as a reserve currency.

The dollar depreciated on average 3.7 percent against the yen.

On October 5, the exchange rate was US$ 1.47 per euro and 89.5 yen per dollar.

resumen informativo

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries decreased to 3.39 percent on average in September

In September, the 3-month Libor fell on average from 0.42 to 0.30 percent, while the yield on the 10-year Treasury bond decreased from 3.58 to 3.39 percent.

The fall in the yield on US Treasury bonds was caused by the large auction of long-term Treasury bonds and by a favorable demand. Positive economic data and Wall Street gains this week partially offset this decline in the yield on the Treasury debt.

On October 5, the 3-month Libor declined to 0.28 percent and the yield on the US Treasury bond declined to 3.22 percent.

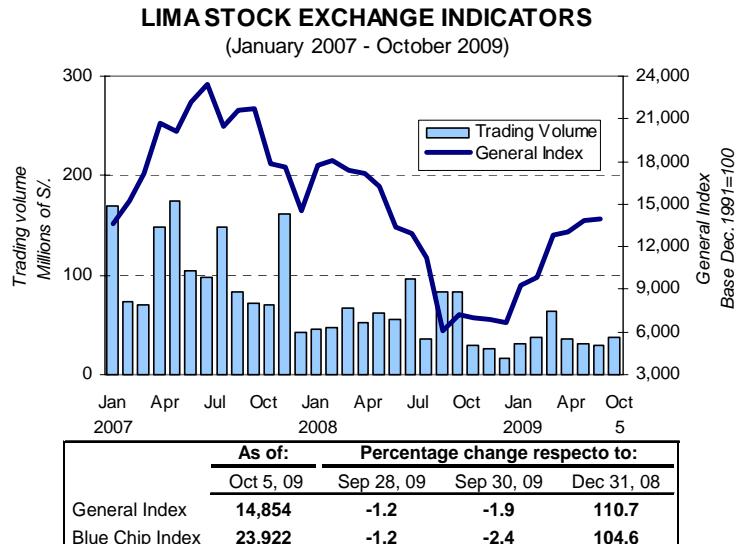

Lima Stock Exchange increased 8.5 percent in September

In September, the General and Blue Chip indices of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) grew 8.5 and 8.7 percent, respectively.

Most trading of stock indices for the month was influenced by the surge in shares of industrial companies and mining firms after the rise in international metal prices, in line with the performance of Wall Street and other stock exchanges the region.

As of October 5, General and Blue Chip indices fell 1.9 and 2.4 percent respectively.

So far this year, these indices have accumulated gains of 110.7 and 104.6 percent, respectively.
