** Preliminary data.

Exchange rate: US dollar traded at S/. 2.863

Between October 13 and 20 the average interbank ask price of the dollar increased slightly from S/. 2.857 to S/. 2.863. This represented a depreciation of the nuevo sol of 0.20 percent. The BCRP intervened in the exchange market purchasing US$ 775 million.

Between October 13 and 20, banks' balance of net forward purchases of foreign currency rose by US$ 420 million.

International reserves increased to US$ 33,194 million on October 20

Net international reserves (NIRs) amounted to US$ 33,194 million as of October 20, a sum US$ 1,064 million higher than the one recorded at end September. This increase is mainly explained by the BCRP foreign currency purchases (US$ 910 million), by higher valuation of investments (US$ 141 million), by banks' higher deposits (US$ 42 million), and by higher investment yield (US$ 3 million). This result was in part offset by lower public sector deposits (US$ 34 million).

The international investment position of the BCRP on October 20 was US$ 23,112 million, a sum US$ 1,056 million higher than at end September.

Credit to the Private Sector grew 12.9 percent YoY

In September, total liquidity in the private sector didn't record any variation. In Year on Year, total liquidity accumulated a variation of 9.5 percent compared to September 2008.

On the other hand, total credit to the private sector decreased 0.2 percent due to in part to a higher direct financing of financial entities in the capital market: issues of securities by non-financial firms totaled S/. 397 million in September, the monthly highest value since October 2007. With this, the growth of credit was 12.9 percent in the last 12 months.

Gross domestic product grew 0.25 percent in August

Reflecting greater activity in the sectors of agriculture, mining, construction, and other services (led by increased governmental and financial services), GDP grew 0.25 percent in August, accumulating a slight expansion (0.1 percent) in the first eight months of the year. Moreover, recording two consecutive months of growth after the minimum growth rate recorded in June, GDP has grown 1.5 percent compared to July in de-seasonalized terms.

The agricultural sector grew 1.7 percent relative to August 2008 mainly as a result of the higher production of crops for the domestic market (e.g. dry bean, pumpkin, banana, tomato, sweet potato, corn, broad bean, and dry lima bean), as well as of the growth recorded in the livestock sub sector. Conversely, the production of crops for the external market and for agro industry was affected by a lower supply of olive and hard yellow corn –these crops recorded high rates of growth in 2008. It is worth pointing out that the agriculture sector accumulates a growth rate of 2.3 percent in the first eight months of the year.

resumen informativo

Activity in the fishing sector fell 12.6 percent, mainly due to lower catches of giant squid, which is the main species used to manufacture frozen products. So far this year, growth in this sector has accumulated a decline of 9.9 percent.

The mining and hydrocarbon sector showed a slight increase (1.0 percent) since the higher production of precious metals and hydrocarbons compensated the lower extraction of industrial metals such as copper, zinc, and molybdenum. Year-to-date, this sector accumulates a growth rate of 1.7 percent compared to the same period in 2008.

Manufacturing based on raw materials grew 10.2 percent, due to increased activity in the refining of crude, meat products, and the refining of non-ferrous metals, although this was offset by a lower production of fish conserves and frozen products. So far this year, this sub-sector accumulates a growth rate of 1.2 percent. Non-primary manufacturing dropped 12.7 percent in August 2009 compared to August 2008, which in deseasonalized terms represents a slight decline of 0.8 percent compared to July.

Some indicators of economic activity show higher levels compared with previous months: for example, the rate of use of installed capacity in non-primary manufacturing increased to 69.5 percent in August, recording its highest level so far this year. Moreover, the number of industrial branches with negative percentage changes fell from 29 to 24 in August, after recording a maximum high of 31 industrial branches in June.

In August, the construction sector grew 5.2 percent, accumulating an expansion of 3.0 percent so far this year.

Indicators – September 2009

- According to IMARPE, anchovy catch amounted to 1.9 thousand tons, which represents a decline of 7.6 percent compared with the same month last year. With this, the accumulated volume of fish caught as of September amounts to 3,739.1 thousand tons (the annual target being 5,500 thousand tons).
- According to the Ministry of Energy and Mining, the production of liquid hydrocarbons grew 21.7 percent and the production of natural gas grew 0.7 percent.
- According to ASOCEM, local dispatches of cement increased 4.2 percent from 609.5 to 634.9 thousand tons between September 2008 and September 2009.
- According to the Comité de Operación Económica del Sistema Interconectado Nacional (COES), the production of electricity as of October 22 declined 1.0 percent.

International Markets

Country risk at 207 basis points on October 20

Between September 13 and 20, the country risk measured by the EMBIG Peru spread, grew from 174 to 207 basis points, showing a similar evolution to the spread of the region, which increased 10 basis points.

The spread of emerging market debt grew due to an investors' take-profit.

Price of gold increased to US$ 1,059.4 a troy ounce

In the same period, the price of gold increased slightly 0.2 percent to US$ 1,059.4 a troy ounce.

The persistent weakness of the dollar and record level of crude explained the rise in the price of gold. However, investors' take-profit after the price levels reached a maximum highs (over US$/ oz.tr. 1,061) offset the rise in precious metal .

Between October 13 and 20, the price of copper rose 2.6 percent to US$ 2.92 a pound.

The rise in the price of copper was associated with recovery of demand from China (higher imports) and supply constraints (strikes in Peru and Chile and production troubles in Australia). Inventories at the main metal exchanges fell to the equivalent of approximately 11 days of consumption.

In the same period, the price of zinc increased 1.8 percent to US$ 0.95 a pound.

The rise in the price of zinc was associated with lower inventories in the London Metal Exchange by 0.7 percent to 427 thousand MT and better expectations of the demand.

The price of WTI oil increased 6.7 percent between October 13 and 20 and reached US$ 79.1 a barrel.

The oil price confirmed its upward trend showed last week. Recovery of demand in China (higher imports), lower crude stockpiles in the United States and the forecasts of a strong winter in the Northern Hemisphere were the main factors behind this tendency.

US dollar depreciated against the euro

Between October 13 and 20, the US dollar depreciated 0.5 percent against the euro.

The dollar continued to depreciate against the euro by lower risk aversion of the agents (which reduced the attractiveness of the dollar as safe-haven asset). During this week, the dollar reached a 14-month low against the euro.

Against the yen, the dollar appreciated 1.1 percent.

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries decreased to 3.34 percent

Between October 13 and 20, the 3-month Libor remained at 0.28 percent, while the yield on the 10-year Treasury bond decreased to 3.34 from 3.35 percent.

Lima Stock Exchange increased 0.2 percent on October 20

So far this month (at October 20), the indices of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) showed different outcomes, while General index grew 0.2 percent, Blue chip index fell 0.3 percent.

During the week (from 13 to 20 October), both the General and the Blue Chip indices fell 1.7 and 2.5 percent respectively, led by declines in mining and industrial shares due to investors' take-profit.

So far this year, the indices of the LSE have accumulated gains for 115.2 and 108.9 percent, respectively.

Desde el 29 de setiembre de 2006, el JP Morgan, de acuerdo a sus criterios de liquidez de mercado, ha incluido dentro de su EMBIG PERU los bonos globales Perú 2025 y 2033. Al ser los spreads de dichos bonos cercanos a los 200 pbs, ello explica el aumento de cerca de 40 pbs en el EMBIG PERÚ a partir del 29 de setiembre.
