Exchange rate: S/. 2.793 per USD

Between September 14 and 21, the average interbank ask price of the dollar increased from S/. 2.788 to S/. 2.793, which means a depreciation 0.16 percent. In this period the BCRP intervened in the foreign exchange market buying FC for a total of US$ 120 million.

Between September 14 and 21, banks' balance of net forward purchases of foreign currency increased by US$ 22 million. So far this month the balance of net forward purchases of FC has accumulated an increase of US$ 483 million.

International reserves amounted to US$ 42,659 million

On September 22, net international reserves (NIRs) amounted to US$ 42,659 million. This amount of reserves is higher by US$ 2,455 million than the one recorded at the close of August.

The increase of NIRs observed so far this month was mainly due to the Central Bank's purchases of FC (US$ 1,185 million), banks' increased deposits at the Central Bank (up US$ 939 million), and the higher valuation of investments (US$ 355 million).

The foreign exchange position of the BCRP on September 22 was US$ 31,307 million, higher by US$ 1,528 million than the one recorded at the close of August.

Credit to the private sector recorded an annual growth of 16.9 percent

Total credit to the private sector, which includes loans, granted by banks and other financial institutions, such as financial companies, state banks, municipal banks and rural S&L, grew 16.9 percent in the last 12-months.

This rate is similar to the one recorded in July and consistent with the dynamism presented by diverse economic sector and the higher demand for loans from these sectors.

The total credit has been recovering sustainably since the end of 2009, not only due the higher banking and other financial institutions activities.

In August, total liquidity to the private sector, which includes loans, granted by banks and other financial institutions, such as financial companies, state banks, municipal banks and rural S&L, grew 18.1 percent in the last 12-months.

This growth rate was higher than the 16.2 percent reached in July, reflecting the general increase in all varieties of financial system deposits.

GDP grew 9.0 percent in July

In July, the GDP grew by 9.0 percent, which accumulates an expansion of 8.3 percent in the first seven months of the year. The month's result mainly reflects the dynamism recorded by non-primary sectors, within which highlights the expansion of non-primary manufacturing (17.7 percent), construction (12.3 percent) and trade (8.9 percent).

1/ At 1994 prices.

In July, the agricultural sector output grew 3.6 percent, accumulating a 4.5 percent expansion in the first seven months of the year. The month's result was explained by the recovery in production of coffee, onion, olives, sweet potatoes and beans, to which was added the increased production of poultry, thus compensating for the reduced supply of potatoes and rice.

The fishing sector fell by 14.6 percent, mainly reflecting the reduced extraction of species for frozen food item, which was attenuated with increased anchovy catch for industrial use. So far this year, the sector has accumulated an 11.5 percent drop.

The mining and hydrocarbons sector rose by 0.6 percent, recording a growth of equal magnitude in the first seven months of the year. The month's result reflected the increased activity in the extraction of hydrocarbons (30.6 percent), which offset the negative contribution of metal mining, mainly affected by the lower extraction of gold in Yanacocha and Barrick.

Non-primary manufacturing increased 17.7 percent, which accumulated growth of 16.1 percent so far this year. In July, 31 of the 38 branches of non-primary manufacturing increased compared with the same period of last year. On the other hand, the ratio of installed capacity in July was 79.6 percent, an increase of 1 percentage point over June and 12 points compared to July of the previous year.

The construction sector grew 12.3 percent in July, thus accumulating a 18.1 percent growth in the first seven months of the year versus the same period last year. Continuity in the sector's

International Markets

Country risk at 178 basis points

Between September 14 and 21, the country risk indicator –measured by the EMBIG Peru spread– rose from 163 to 178 basis points.

However, the Latin American spread has reduced 1 basis point.

Price of gold rose to US$ 1,276 per troy ounce

In the same period, the price of gold rose slightly 0.5 percent to US$ 1,275.9 per troy ounce, recording a new historical high at US$ 1,282.7 per troy ounce on September 20.

This increase was associated with a depreciation of the dollar against the euro and the higher demand from investors.

Between, September 14 and 21 the price of copper increased 2.4 percent to US$ 3.49 per pound.

The base metal price was driven by demand from emerging countries and falling inventories in the major metal exchanges.

Thus, in the copper market, inventories fell 1.2 percent to 568 thousand metric tons, equivalent to 1.7 weeks of consumption

resumen informativo

From September 14 to 21, the price of zinc remained at US$ 0.97 per pound, however showed some volatility during the week.

The dissemination of information by ILZSG (International Lead and Zinc Study Group) which reported a surplus in the production of zinc during the first 7 months of the year and increased demand from emerging countries had balancing effects on the weekly evolution of the base metal.

WTI oil prices fell by 4.3 percent between September 14 and 21, reaching US$ 73.5 per barrel.

The fall in oil prices was due to the increased availability of inventories in the United States, the resumption of operations of Enbridge pipeline that carries crude oil from Canada to refineries in the Midwest and declining consumer confidence in the US.

Dollar depreciated against the euro

Between September 14 and 21, the dollar depreciated 2.0 percent against the euro.

The evolution of the dollar was caused by the lower risk aversion and speculations on extension of the quantitative easing program of the Fed.

Against the yen, the dollar appreciated 2.5 percent, amid Japanese government intervention in the foreign exchange market on September 15 (for the first time since March 2004).

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries decreased to 2.57 percent

Between September 14 and 21, the 3-month Libor remained at 0.29 percent, while the yield on the 10-year Treasury bond decreased from 2.68 to 2.57 percent.

During the week, US Treasuries yields fell after the dissemination of unfavorable indicators (manufacturing and consumer confidence) and speculation that the Fed will extend its Treasuries purchasing program.

Annual profitability of the Lima Stock Exchange: 21.1 percent

So far this month (at September 21), the General Index and the Selective Index of the LSE have grown 13.3 and 9.6 percent, respectively.

During the week of analysis (September 14-21), both indices showed positive results and grew 3.9 and 1.4 percent, respectively, influenced by the higher international prices of metals and sound fundamentals of companies related to domestic demand.

Year-to-date, the General Index and the Selective Index of the LSE have accumulated gains of 21.1 percent and 11.4 percent, respectively.
