International Markets

Average country risk at 151 basis points in November

In November, the average country risk, measured by the EMBIG Peru spread, fell to 151 basis points from 156 basis points in October.

The spread of the Latin American debt rose by 1 basis points in this period, in a context of uncertainty about the fiscal situation in Europe.

Average price of gold rose to US$ 1,369.6/troy ounce in November

In November, the average price of gold rose from US$ 1,344.4/troy ounce in October to US$ 1,369.6/troy ounce (1.9 percent).

This rise was mainly associated with the Federal Reserve's monetary easing program in early November, with higher seasonal demand for gold for jewelry in India and Turkey –due to the wedding season–, and with uncertainty over the fiscal situation in the Eurozone, which led investors to seek gold as a hedge asset.

In November, the average price of copper rose 2.1 percent, from US$ 3.76 in October to US$ 3.84 a pound.

The price of copper was mainly influenced by supply constraints in Chile due to strikes in the mine of Collahuasi (the third largest mine in the world). Uncertainty about global economic recovery and higher inventories at the metal exchange markets partially offset the rise in the price of this basic metal.

resumen informativo

The average price of zinc dropped 3.4 percent in November, falling from US$ 1.08 in October to US$ 1.04 per pound.

This drop was associated with the measures implemented in China to constrain demand, which weakened the outlook for global demand, as well as with ILZSG reports indicating that the mining production of zinc had increased by 10.7 percent between January and September due to higher production in China and Australia.

The average price of WTI oil increased from US$ 82.0 in October to US$ 84.2 per barrel in November (2.7 percent).

Factors accounting for this rise included the IEA's projection of a higher demand for crude in this year and next year, Norway's lower production of oil, problems in Nigeria's refineries, and the drop of inventories of crude in the United States.

US dollar appreciated on average against the euro in November

In November, the dollar appreciated 1.9 percent on average against the euro.

This evolution of the US currency against the euro reflected higher risk aversion in financial markets due to a possible sovereign debt crisis in some countries of the Eurozone.

The dollar appreciated 1.0 percent on average against the yen.

On average the yield on the US Treasury bond rose to 2.75 percent in November

On average terms, the 3-month Libor remained at 0.29 percent in November, while the yield on the 10-year US Treasury bond rose from 2.52 percent in October to 2.75 percent.

Lima Stock Exchange grew 8.5 percent in November

In November, the General Index and the Selective Index of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) grew 8.5 and 3.4 percent, respectively.

The favorable evolution of the LSE indices during the month was influenced by the positive performance of the stocks associated with domestic demand and some mining shares. The indices of the LSE grew in line with the evolution observed in the main stock markets in the region, which reacted to positive data in the US economy.

Year-to-date, the General and the Selective Indices of the LSE have accumulated gains of 47.2 percent and 29.2 percent, respectively.
