Production in the agriculture sector registered a slight growth of 0.6 percent in June and accumulated an expansion of 2.2 percent so far this year. The sector's growth is mainly explained by increased livestock production (up 5.0 percent), especially poultry, given that agricultural production contracted 1.3 percent. In the latter sub-sector, the production oriented to the domestic market declined 6.4 percent, mainly as a result of a lower production of rice, while the production oriented to the external markets and to agro-industry grew 12.8 percent as a result of a higher production of coffee, cotton, olives, sugar cane, and asparagus.

resumen informativo

Although accumulating an expansion of 24.3 percent year-to-date, the fishing sector registered a drop of 4.6 percent in June. This result was mainly associated with the lower catch of giant squid to produce frozen seafood products.

The mining and hydrocarbons sector grew 2.7 percent due to the higher production of natural gas, gold and iron, which offset the lower production recorded in most other metal minerals. This sector, which has been showing high volatility in its monthly results, has accumulated a slight decline of 0.4 percent so far this year since the drop observed in metal mining has been offset by a higher production of natural gas.

Non primary manufacturing grew 5.3 percent in June, as a result of which the sector accumulates an expansion of 9.1 percent so far this year. Moreover, 27 of the 38 industrial groups showed higher growth rates. These groups included the glass industry, machinery and equipment, publishing and printing activities, basic chemicals, plastics, food conserves, chocolates and alcoholic beverages, natural and chemical scents, wood and furniture, other garments, and toilette and cleansing products.

The construction sector grew 3.7 percent in June and thus accumulated a growth rate of 5.5 percent year-to-date.

- The production of hydrocarbons grew 18.1 percent, according to Perupetro.
- According to ASOCEM, local dispatches of cement declined from 649.2 to 630.9 thousand tons between June 2010 and June 2011.

Non financial expenditure, on the other hand, grew 6.5 percent.

The general government tax revenues grew by a real 12.9 percent as a result of higher revenues from the income tax (34.1 percent) and the value added tax (14.8 percent), in a context of growth of GDP and domestic demand.

Year-to-date, the current revenues of the general government have grown 15.0 percent, while non financial expenditure has declined 1.2 percent.

International Markets

Country risk at 177 basis points

Between July 12 and 19, the country risk indicator –measured by the EMBIG Peru spread– fell from 189 to 177 basis points favored by positive domestic expectations.

The spread of the Latin American debt showed a slight decline of 2 basis points and recorded 379 basis points.

Price of gold at US$ 1,601.5 per troy ounce

In the same period, the price of gold climbed 3.2 percent to US$ 1,601.5 per troy ounce, after reaching a new record high of US$ 1,607 an ounce on July 18.

The increased demand for gold as an investment asset and the depreciation of the dollar influenced the rise in the price of gold. Moreover, the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) reported that non commercial positions in gold increased during the first two weeks of July.

Between July 12 and 19, the price of copper rose 2.7 percent to US$ 4.42 per pound.

The price of the basic metal recovered during the week, driven by expectations of a higher demand following the publication of reports with positive indicators of economic activity in China.

The price of copper rose even though inventories in stock markets increased 3 percent to 645 thousand tons during the week.

Between July 12 and 19, the price of zinc increased 5.9 percent to US$ 1.11 a pound.

The price of zinc climbed favored by recovery prospects for demand after China's positive indicators of activity, as well as by the drop of inventories in the major stock exchange markets.

resumen informativo

The price of WTI oil rose slightly to US$ 97.5 per barrel (0.1 percent) between July 12 and 19.

This slight rise was associated with the International Energy Agency's upward revision of demand forecasts for 2012 and with the increase of non commercial positions in crude oil. However, the rise in the price of oil was offset by Saudi Arabia's unilateral decision of increasing its production by 700 thousand barrels per day.

Dollar depreciated against the euro

Between July 12 and 19, the dollar depreciated 1.3 percent against the euro.

This was mainly explained by the fact that uncertainty regarding the debt crisis in the Eurozone was more than offset by negative data of activity in the US and by rating agencies' warnings about a possible downgrading if the debt ceiling is not raised in USA.

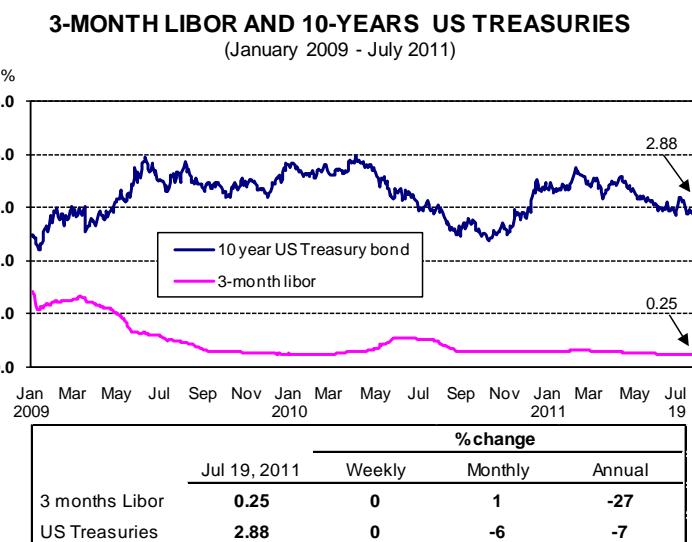

On the other hand, the dollar appreciated 0.1 percent against the yen.

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries: 2.88 percent

Between July 12 and 19, the 3-month Libor remained at 0.25 percent.

The yield on the 10-year US Treasury bonds showed no major variation and remained at 2.88 percent.

Lima Stock Exchange

The indices of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) at July 19 show positive results: the General Index has risen 16.3 percent and the Selective Index has risen 17.8 percent.

During the week of analysis (July 12 – 19), both the General and the Selective indices rose (10.2 and 11.4 percent, respectively), driven by leading mining shares after the positive mining results recorded in Q2 and by favorable domestic expectations.

So far this year, the indices of the LSE accumulate declines of 6.0 and 5.0 percent, respectively.
