resumen informativo

Exchange rate: S/. 2.731 per dollar

Between August 31 and September 6, the average interbank ask price of the dollar rose from S/. 2.728 to S/. 2.731, which represented a depreciation of the nuevo sol of 0.13 percent. In this period the Central Bank intervened in the foreign exchange market buying US dollars for a total of US$ 86 million.

Between August 31 and September 6, banks' balance of net forward purchases in foreign currency fell by US$ 141 million. In August, the balance of net forward purchases accumulated an increase of US$ 409 million.

International reserves amounted to US$ 48.9 billion

Net international reserves (NIRs) at September 6 amounted to US$ 48.9 billion. This level of reserves is US$ 397 million higher than the one recorded at the close of August.

The increase of NIRs observed so far this month was mainly due to higher banks and public sector's deposits (up by US$ 484 million and US$ 37 million, respectively). This was offset by the lower valuation of investments (down US$ 129 million).

The exchange rate position of the BCRP at September 6 was US$ 32.4 billion. This amount is US$ 124 million lower than the one recorded at the close of August.

* As of 6.

Liquidity and credit to the private sector at August 15

In the last four weeks total liquidity in the private sector declined by S/. 533 million (0.4 percent) and thus accumulated a growth rate of 18.8 percent in the last twelve months. Non traditional exports grew 33.7 percent in July

The trade balance registered a positive balance of US$ 1.1 billion in July 2011 and thus accumulated a surplus of US$ 5.02 billion between January and July. This amount is higher than the surplus (US$ 3.62 billion) recorded at the same period last year.

Exports, which amounted to US$ 4.2 billion, grew 39.3 percent compared to July 2011. The volume of exports grew 7.2 percent and prices grew 29.9 percent. The increase observed in the volume of exports is explained by higher shipments of non traditional exports, especially agricultural, fishing and chemical products, while the increase observed in average prices was associated with the prices rises recorded by the main mining commodities (copper, gold, and zinc) and by non traditional exports (textiles and steel&metal products).

resumen informativo

Imports, which amounted to US$ 3.05 billion, grew 20.1 percent compared to July 2010. The volume of imports grew 1.6 percent. Although the volume of imports of capital goods continued growing at a high rate, the volume of imports of consumer goods and imports of fuels and food showed lower growth rates. On the other hand, average prices grew 18.2 percent, with the increase recorded in the price of crude and food inputs being noteworthy (54.9 and 57.4 percent, respectively).

In July, the terms of trade grew 9.9 percent compared to July 2010. The prices of exports grew 29.9 percent, while the prices of imports grew 18.2 percent.

International Markets

Country risk at 213 basis points

Between August 30 and September 6, the country risk indicator, measured by the EMBIG Peru spread, rose from 188 to 213 basis points.

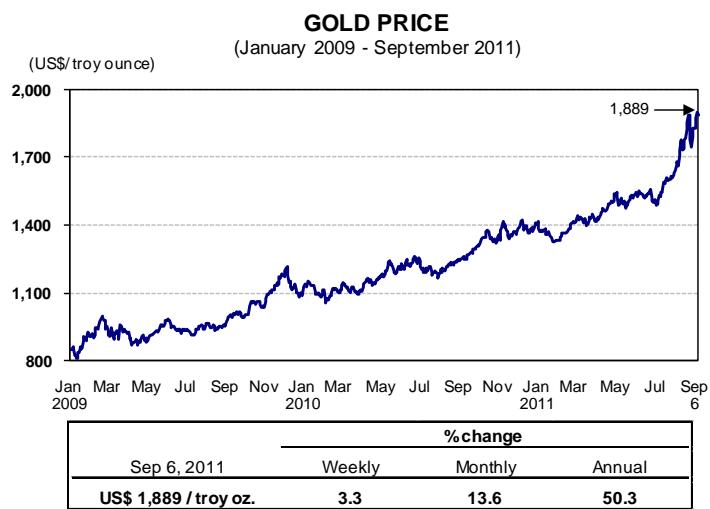

Furthermore, the spread of the region's debt rose 14 basis points due to higher global risk aversion as a result of lower prospects of global growth and the worsening of the debt crisis in the Eurozone.

Price of gold reaches US$ 1,888.9/troy ounce

In the same period, the price of gold rose 3.3 percent to US$ 1,888.9 per troy ounce.

The price of gold continued rising during the week and registered a new historical record level of US$ 1,898.9 per troy ounce on September 5 due to increased purchases of this metal associated with higher risk aversion in some markets.

resumen informativo

Between August 30 and September 6, the price of copper dropped 2.3 percent to US$ 4.05/pound.

The price of this basic metal fell again due to prospects of lower demand, but the fall was offset by supply constraints in producing countries (Peru and Indonesia).

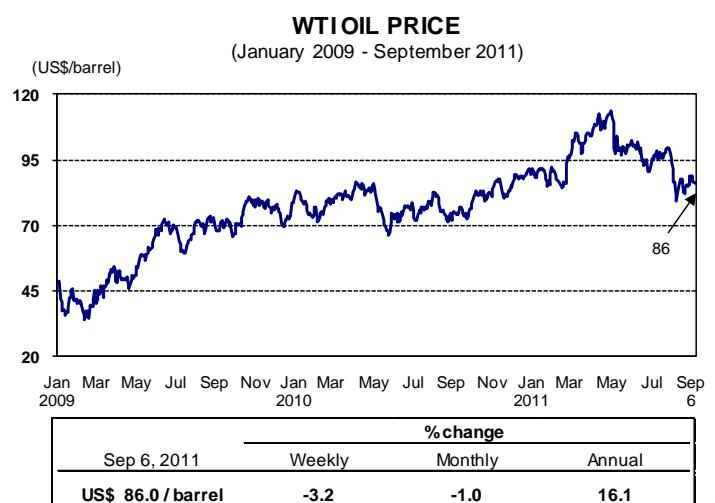

Between August 30 and September 6, the price of zinc fell 4.7 percent to US$ 0.98/pound.

The fall in the price of zinc was influenced by negative data on the service sector in China and by disappointing job data in the U.S., which fueled fears about a global economic slowdown.

The price of WTI oil dropped 3.2 percent to US$ 86.0 per barrel between August 30 and September 6.

The momentum in the price of oil derived from the closing of oil installations in the Gulf of Mexico due to tropical storm Lee was offset by concerns about a slowdown in the U.S. economy and by rising inventories of crude in the U.S. after inventories grew more than expected during last week.

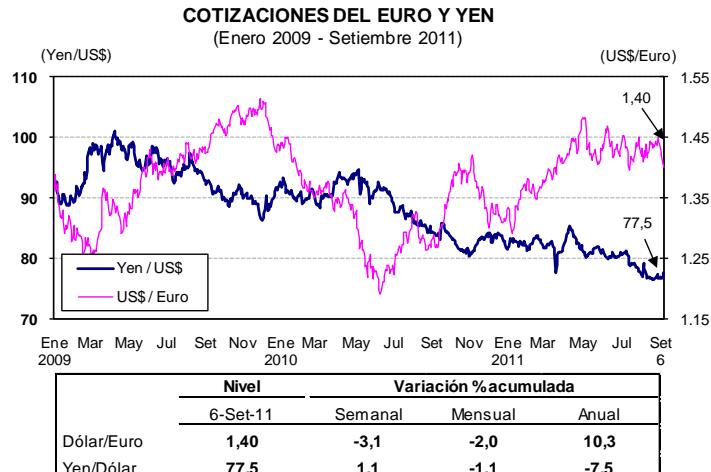

resumen informativo

Dollar appreciated against the euro and the yen

Between August 30 and September 6, the dollar appreciated 3.1 percent against the euro.

This result is explained by increased risk aversion due to unfavorable activity data and to the worsening of the crisis in the Eurozone after the defeat of the ruling party in the German elections.

The dollar appreciated 1.1 percent against the yen.

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries at 1.99 percent

Between August 30 and September 6, the 3-month Libor rose 1 basis points, while the yield on the 10-year US Treasury bond fell from 2.18 to 1.99 percent.

The yield on US Treasuries fell due to increased risk aversion during the week after the publication of unfavorable jobless data in the United States,

Lima Stock Exchange

Between August 30 and September 6, the General Index of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) declined slightly (0.4 percent), while the Selective Index of the LSE registered an almost nil increase.

This evolution of the LSE took place amid volatility in global markets, the drop of the international prices of basic metals and negative data of employment in the U.S.

Year-to-date, the indices of the LSE accumulate losses of 14.7 and 13.0 percent, respectively.
