In March, the agricultural sector grew 1.6 percent, reflecting the growth of 4.9 percent of the livestock subsector. Within this sub sector highlighted the range of poultry meat rose 6.5 percent in the first quarter. In contrast, the lower performance of the agricultural sub-sector was attributed to the decline in rice production, which in previous months recorded double-digit growth for the year, due to delays in Piura campaign. During the first quarter the sector grew 2.3 percent, due to increased production of rice, garlic, olive and banana contributed 1.1 percentage points to growth in the first quarter.

Fishing activity fell by 15.1 percent in March, reflecting the reduced extraction of anchovy for industrial production and the reduced availability of mackerel for human consumption. With this in the first quarter the sector accumulated a decrease of 7.6 percent, mainly due to lower extraction anchovy.

The mining and hydrocarbon sector in March recorded a growth of 6.0 percent, highlighting the increased production of natural gas from Lot 88; gold from Minera Yanacocha and; copper from Antamina mine. In the first quarter, the sector's production grew 2.1 percent, reflecting increased production of gold, natural gas and copper.

The manufacturing sector decreased its activity by 3.1 percent in the month, reflecting lower manufacturing of raw materials, which reduced its activity by 9.5 percent as a result of reduced fishing activity. Meanwhile, non-primary manufacturing declined 2.0 percent, mainly in the branches of knitwear for export. In the first quarter, non-primary industry registered a slight drop of 0.6 percent.

The construction sector grew 14.7 percent, the highest rate since January 2011, reflecting the major works executed by both the public and private sector, highlighting the latter's commercial and real estate items. This sector, which grew 12.5 percent in the first quarter, is one of those who gave a greater contribution to GDP growth.

Indicators – April 2012

Preliminary data available to date of indicators on the sectors of fishing, mining and hydrocarbons, construction, electricity and water, include the following:

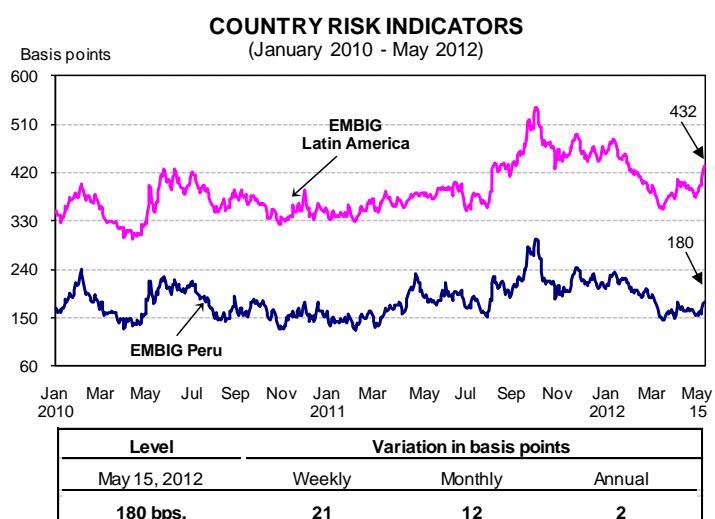

- According to IMARPE, in April fishing tasks were performed only on the south coast as the Northern region major fishing area (90 percent of the total) is in closure. 124 thousand tons of anchovy has been captured, as part of the 400 thousand tons quota for the period February-June in this region.
- The production of hydrocarbons dropped 1.9 percent, according to Perupetro.
- According to ASOCEM, local dispatches of cement increased from 601 to 698 thousand tons between April 2011 and April 2012.
- The production of electricity grew 5.6 percent in March according to the Comité de Operación Económica del Sistema Interconectado Nacional (COES).

International Markets

Country risk at 180 basis points

Between May 8 and 15, the country risk indicator, measured by the EMBIG Peru spread, rose from 159 to 180 basis points.

Also, the spread of debt in the region rose by 42 basis points higher risk aversion associated with fears of worsening crisis in Europe.

Price of gold decreased to US$ 1,552.9 per troy ounce

In the same period, the price of gold decreased 2.7 percent to US$ 1,552.9 per troy ounce.

The appreciation of the dollar against major world currencies and lower non-commercial net positions of the precious metal, which fell to its lowest level since January 2009 caused a decline in the price of gold.

Between May 8 and 15, the price of copper fell 4.6 percent to US$ 3.56 a pound.

The continued fall in copper prices was the result of the liquidation of positions investors due to the increased perception of risk and following the release of unfavorable data of activity and trade from China.

Between May 8 and 15, the price of zinc decreased 3.5 percent and recorded US$ 0.87 a pound.

The base metal prices registered a decline, reaching levels of January 2012, due to signals of reduced demand from China (deceleration of imports).

resumen informativo

Between May 8 and 15, the price of WTI oil decreased 3.1 percent and recorded US$ 94.0 per barrel.

The price of oil again closed down, after the American Petroleum Institute (API) announced that US inventories rose to its highest level since August 1990, as well as the concerns of a global economy slowdown.

Dollar appreciated against the euro

In May 8-15, the dollar appreciated 2.1 percent against the euro.

The evolution of the US currency was explained by increased risk aversion in financial markets due to a worsening in the Europe crisis, after Greece have not achieved a coalition agreement of government policies and problems in the Spanish banking system.

Against the yen, the dollar appreciated 0.5 percent.

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries located at 1.77 percent

Between May 8 and 15, the 3-month Libor remained at 0.47 percent, while the yield on the 10 year-US Treasuries fell from 1.84 to 1.77 percent.

During the week, the yields of the US Treasury bonds fell in a context of increased fear in financial markets by a worsening debt crisis in the Eurozone.

Annual profitability at the Lima Stock Exchange reached 7.1 percent

Up to May 15, the General and the Selective Indices of the Lima Stock Exchange (LSE) fell 8.0 and 7.3 percent, respectively. Following the trend of the stock exchanges in the region.

During the week of analysis (May 8-15), both indices, the General and the Selective, decreased 2.5 and 2.1 percent, respectively, due to volatility in the foreign markets after uncertainty of the politics in Greece and lower commodities prices.

So far this year, the General and Selective indices of the LSE have risen 7.1 and 10.1 percent, respectively.
