resumen informativo

The increase registered in NIRs so far this month is explained mainly by the Central Bank's net purchases of foreign currency (US$ 960 million) and by the higher valuation of investments (US$ 382 million). This increase was offset by the decline of banks' deposits (US$ 661 million) and by lower deposits of the public sector (US$ 43 million).

The foreign exchange position of the BCRP at September 25 was US$ 42.80 billion. This amount is US$ 1.30 billion higher than the one recorded at the close of August 2012.

Contrasting with the surplus recorded in August 2011, an economic deficit of S/. 358 million was registered in the operations of the non-financial public sector in August of this year. This negative balance is mainly explained by the growth of the general government non-financial expenditure (17.3 percent), highest rate so far this year. The general government's tax revenues increased 3.1 percent.

Non-financial expenditures were S/. 7.82 billion. This variation is explained by the higher non-financial expenditure observed in all governments –47.5 percent in local governments, 16.2 percent in regional governments, and 8.0 percent in national governments. This latter registered a positive variation (the first time in the year) boosted by a higher capital expenditure.

International markets

Country risk at 121 basis points

In September 18-25, the country risk indicator, measured by the EMBIG Peru spread, rose from 115 to 121 basis points.

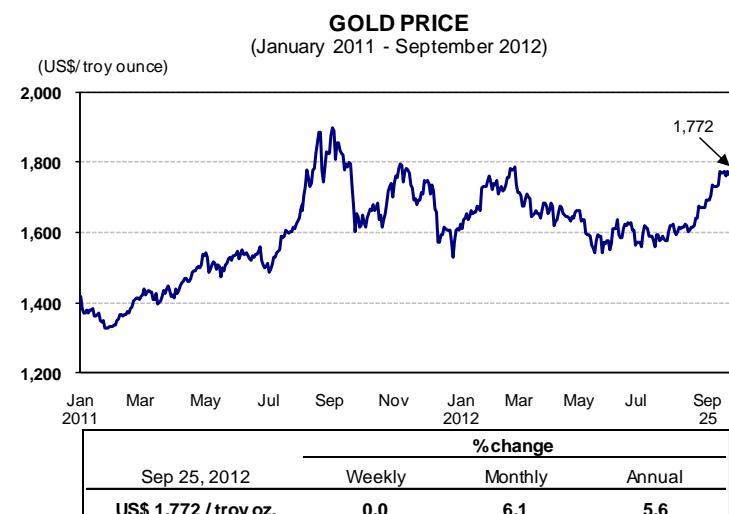

Likewise, the EMBIG Latin America spread increased 10 basis points as a result of increased pessimism in financial markets by signs of increased global slowdown.

Price of gold kept to US$ 1,772.1 per troy ounce

In the same period, the price of gold kept to US$ 1,772.1 per troy ounce.

The appreciation of the dollar against the euro and the latest stimulus measures implemented by the Federal Reserve and the Bank of Japan, had offsetting effects on the price of gold.

Between September 18 and 25, the price of copper increased 0.1 percent to US$ 3.74 per pound.

Copper prices continued to increase supported by optimism about the possibility that the measures recently announced of economic stimulus to boost demand for metals. Profit taking due to the next week holiday in China offset the rise in the price.

resumen informativo

Between September 18 and 25, the price of zinc rose 2.1 percent to US$ 0.95/pound.

The decrease in zinc inventories in the major metal exchange markets and expectations of greater demand due to monetary stimulus measures in Europe, United States and Japan boosted the price, however this rise was offset by a weak manufacturing production registered in Eurozone and China.

Between September 18 and 25, the price of WTI oil declined 4.5 percent to US$ 91.0 per barrel.

The evolution of crude is explained by an increase of crude inventories in the United States (highest level since March) and by Saudi Arabia's announcement that it will increase its production quota.

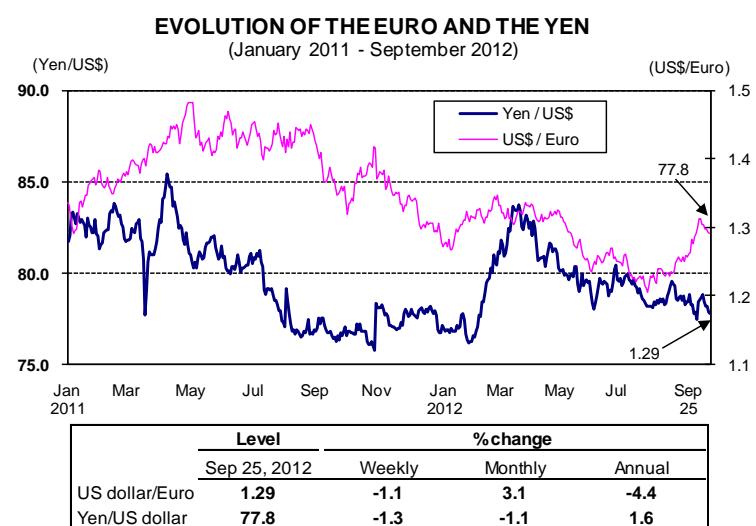

US dollar appreciated against the euro

In September 18-25, the dollar appreciated 1.1 percent against the euro.

The dollar gained ground against the euro in a context of relatively higher global risk aversion by concerns of a global slowdown and uncertainty about the European debt crisis.

On the other hand, the dollar depreciated 1.3 percent against the yen.

resumen informativo

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries reached 1.67 percent

Between September 18 and 25, the 3-month Libor declined 2 basis points to 0.36 percent and the yield on the 10-year US Treasury bonds fell 11 basis points to 1.67 percent.

The yield on the US Treasuries declined during the week due to increased demand for insurance securities after increased risk of a global slowdown, in a context of relatively higher global risk aversion.

Accumulated profitability at the Lima Stock Exchange: 11.7 percent

So far this month (at September 25), the General Index and the Selective Index of the LSE have grown 7.1 and 8.3 percent, respectively.

During the week of analysis (September 18-25), these indices rose 0.6 and 0.9 percent, respectively, in a context of higher price of certains commodities and a slight downward correction in foreign markets.

Year-to-date, the indices of the LSE accumulate gains of 11.7 and 16.9 percent, respectively.
