Exchange rate: S/. 2.580 per US dollar

Between November 27 and December 4, the average selling price of the dollar in the interbank market fell from S/. 2.588 to S/. 2.580 per dollar, which represented an appreciation of the nuevo sol of 0.30 percent. In this period, the Central Bank intervened in the foreign exchange market buying foreign currency for a total of US$ 180 million.

Net international reserves at US$ 63.79 billion at December 4

Net international reserves (NIRs) at November 30, 2012, totaled US$ 63.22 billion. This amount of reserves is US$ 1.31 billion higher than the one recorded at the end of October 2012. On December 4 NIRs amounted to US$ 63.79 billion.

The increase in NIRs in November is explained mainly by the rise in banks' deposits (US$ 1 billion), by the Central Bank's net purchases of foreign currency (US$ 390 million), by investment yield (US$ 54 million), and by the higher valuation of investments (US$ 32 million). This increase was in part offset by the decline registered in public sector deposits (US$ 128 million).

The foreign exchange position of the BCRP at November 30 was US$ 44.99 billion. This amount is higher by US$ 485 million than the one recorded at the close of October 2012. On December 4 the foreign exchange position of the BCRP was US$ 45.12 billion.

Liquidity and credit to the private sector at November 15

In the past four weeks, total credit to the private sector grew 1.4 percent (S/. 2.37 billion) and thus accumulated a growth rate of 16.8 percent in the last 12 months. By currencies, credit in soles grew 1.7 percent (S/. 1.57 billion), while credit in dollars grew 1.1 percent (US$ 298 million).

Total liquidity in the private sector grew 1.4 percent (S/. 2.45 billion) and thus accumulated an annual growth rate of 16.2 percent. By currencies, liquidity in soles grew 3.4 percent (S/. 3.74 billion), while liquidity in dollars declined by 2.2 percent (negative flow of US$ 477 million).

Inflation in Metropolitan Lima: -0.14 percent in November

The consumer price index in Metropolitan Lima showed a variation of -0.14 percent in November, a similar rate to the one registered in October (-0.16 percent). With this result, inflation in the last 12 months shows a rate of 2.66 percent.

Core inflation registered a monthly rate of 0.20 percent and a rate of 3.23 percent in the last twelve months. Non-core inflation showed a rate of -0.77 percent in the month and a rate of 1.62 percent in the last twelve months.

Food and beverage inflation showed a rate of -0.32 percent in November and a rate of 3.99 percent in the last 12 months. On the other hand, inflation without food and beverages registered a rate of -0.02 percent in the month and a rate of 1.80 percent in the last 12 months. Furthermore, inflation without food and energy registered a rate 0.07 percent in November and a rate of 1.92 in the last 12 months.

Three items contributed with 0.08 basis points to increase inflation in November: meals outside the home (0.05 percentage points), canned milk (0.02 percentage points), and chili pepper (0.01 percentage point). On the other hand, three items contributed with 0.20 percentage points to reduce the inflation rate: onion (-0.10 percentage points), gasoline (-0.06 percentage points), and citrus fruits (-0.04 percentage points).

National inflation rate

In compliance with the provisions of article 1 of Law 29438 approved by Congress, as from January 2012 the National Institute of Statistics (INEI) publishes the national consumer price index in addition to the consumer price index of Metropolitan Lima. This index provides information on the prices of a basket of 758 goods and services based on the data collected each month using a sample of 117 food markets and 21,200 commercial and services establishments in the country. Approximately 115,790 price data are collected each month.

The index provides information on consumer prices in the urban areas of 26 of the country's major cities, including 24 departmental capital cities and 2 non-capital cities (Chimbote and Tarapoto).

The base period for the new national consumer price index is December 2011 = 100. The weights reflect the importance of households' expenditure in goods and services relative to their total consumption based on data collected in the 2008-09 consumption survey (ENAPREF 2008-2009).

In November, the national CPI index registered a variation of -0.07 percent and thus accumulated a variation of 2.48 percent in the year. It is worth pointing out that several prices dropped in November, including the prices of some perishable agricultural products such as lemon (-26.7 percent), onion (-21.5 percent), and criollo green peas (-3.5 percent) due to the increased supply of these products. Other items whose prices dropped included gasoline (-4.9 percent) and domestic airline fares (-1.3 percent). Moreover, 13 of the country's 26 major cities showed negative inflation rates. Iquitos registered the highest negative inflation rate (-0.40 percent) and was followed by Cajamarca (-0.39 percent), Tumbes (-0.36 percent), and Huaraz (-0.35 percent). On the other hand, the cities that showed the highest rates of inflation were Abancay (0.67 percent) and Cusco (0.42 percent).

BCRP Survey on Macroeconomic Expectations: November 2012

The results of the Survey on Macroeconomic Expectations conducted by the Central Bank in November show that the inflation levels expected by economic analysts and financial entities have declined to 3.0 percent and are now within the Central Bank's target range. Average country risk in November: 123 basis points

In November, the average country risk indicator, measured by the EMBIG Peru spread, rose from 108 to 123 basis points.

Likewise, the EMBIG Latin America spread rose 14 basis points due to increased global risk aversion associated with continued uncertainty about the feasibility of the program for Greece as well as about the fiscal problem in the United States.

On December 4, the EMBIG Peru registered 125 basis points.

resumen informativo

Average price of gold: US$ 1,722.1 per troy ounce in November

In November, the price of gold declined 1.4 percent to an average level of US$ 1,722.1/troy ounce.

During November the price of gold showed a downward trend associated with the appreciation of the dollar against the euro and with a report of the World Gold Council which said that the global demand for gold had dropped 11 percent in annual terms in Q3-2012.

On December 4, the price of gold was US$ 1,697.4 per troy ounce.

In the month of November, the price of copper fell 4.7 percent to an average price of US$ 3.49/pound.

The price of copper declined, affected by the increase of inventories in China's copper warehouses to historical record levels as well as by production data indicating that China's production of refined copper has increased 9 percent in annual terms and reached a record level of 520 thousand tons in October.

On December 4, the price of copper registered US$ 3.62 per pound.

The price of zinc declined 0.4 percent in November and recorded a monthly average of US$ 0.86 per pound.

The decline in the price of zinc was supported by a report of the International Lead and Zinc Study Group (ILZSG), which said that there had been a surplus in the global market of refined zinc in the first 9 months of 2012, and by the rise of zinc inventories in the London Metal Exchange.

The price of zinc recorded US$ 0.91 per pound on December 4.

The price of WTI oil dropped 3.2 percent in November and registered an average price of US$ 86.7 per barrel.

This drop in the price of crude was due mainly to the increase of inventories in the United States and to the report of the Energy Information Administration (EIA) which reduced, for the second consecutive time, its forecast of the global demand for crude in Q4-2012.

The price of WTI oil on December 4 was US$ 88.5 per barrel.

The dollar appreciated on average against the euro in November

In November the dollar appreciated on average 1.0 percent against the euro.

The appreciation of the dollar reflected increased risk aversion associated with continued uncertainty about the feasibility of the program for Greece as well as about the fiscal problem in the United States.

The dollar also appreciated 2.6 percent against the yen. This is mainly explained by expectations regarding a new monetary stimulus program that would be implemented by the Central Bank of Japan (BoJ).

On December 4, the exchange rate was 1.31 dollars per euro and 81.9 yen per dollar.

Yield on 10-year US Treasuries declined to 1.65 percent in November

On average terms, the 3-month Libor fell 2 basis points to 0.31 percent in November and the yield on the 10-year US Treasury bonds fell 8 basis points to 1.65 percent.

Increased risk aversion in financial markets due to concerns about the possibility of a budget crisis in the United States next year led to a higher demand for safe assets such as the US Treasury bonds.

On December 4, the 3-month Libor registered 0.31 percent and the yield on the 10-year US Treasury bonds registered 1.60 percent.

Accumulated profitability at the Lima Stock Exchange: 4.0 percent

In November, the General Index and the Selective Index of the LSE showed declines of 3.6 and 2.1 percent, respectively.

The bearish result registered by both stock indices during the month was due to the negative evolution of the prices of commodities and to the withdrawal of Volcan from the MSCI Emerging Markets index, which generated massive sales of these shares.

So far this year, at December 4, the indices of the LSE accumulate gains of 4.0 and 11.2 percent, respectively.
